FLIES 3 MILES A MINUTE IN WINNING PULITZER TROPHY

Capt. C. C. Mosely Driving Verville Plane With Liberty Motor Takes First Prize in Field of 34.

40,000 PERSONS SEE SPECTACULAR RACE

Successful Plane, Also That Taking Second Place, Designed and Built in America.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Flying at an average speed of three miles a minute for the entire 132-mile course, Capt. C. C. Mosely, U. S. A., drove the Verville airplane racer to a smashing victory in the Pulitzer trophy race at Mitchell Field, Mineola, yesterday.

It was a world's race record; and the experts have no doubt that on the straightaways the world's mule speed record was broken, but the claim cannot be substantiated. What is known is that Mosely and his machine delivered a peerless performance.

Forty thousand persons witnessed his spectacular performance, and at its close, breaking down the ropes, swarmed across the field to extend congratulations. "Calvin" did the military police attempt to stop the flood. Even in the face of brandished revolvers the crowd held its course and would not be stayed until it had satisfied its curiosity with close-ups of the plucky pilot and his world-beating machine.

From whatever angle viewed the meet stands out as pre-eminent the most successful ever held in this country. In point of view of attendance and public interest it is unapproached. World's records were set at marks which will take a deal of beating.

34 Machines in Race.

Best of all, the great race in which 34 machines were spurring at world speed around a triangular course of 132 miles simultaneously was concluded without a serious mishap. There were minor crashes, but in every instance the pilot escaped with nothing worse than a couple of loose teeth or a marked face.

To those who followed the transatlantic race a year ago this afforded cause for special jubilation. It was interpreted as heralding the day when the public will be awakened to the intrinsic safety of flying in skilled hands.

Mosely's complete race record, which no plane at present built other than the one he himself drove, is likely to beat, reads as follows:

First lap, 11 minutes 67 seconds; second lap, 11 minutes 27 seconds; third lap, 11 minutes 7.28 seconds; fourth lap, 11 minutes 15.32 seconds; total, 44 minutes 29.57 seconds; average per hour, 173 miles.

His wonderful 600-horsepower Packard engine worked sweetly with certain limitations. Its carburetion was below 100 per cent efficient, while the consequence of the engine, which is designed to deliver 1900 revolutions per minute, did not go above 1700. In other words, it was more than 8 per cent below its possible maximum, which on paper shows a speed of 200 miles, plus, per hour.

Second Place Race Notable.

Not less notable was the second place race driven by Capt. L. E. Hartney with a Thompson 300-horsepower Wright motor. His time was two minutes and a half slower than Mosely's and his skillful driving evoked the admiration of all the air-views who saw it.

So, too, did that of Bert Acosta, third prize man, and one of the few civilian pilots entered. The Italian 314, with a 225-horsepower motor, which he drove could not have been better handled.

To all interested in the development of aviation in this country it was a cause for great satisfaction that American products triumphed so signally over those of other countries. The winning plane is designed by an American, A. C. Verville, and powered with a motor which is in essence a glorified Liberty.

Second place also went to an American production—the Thomas Morse plane built at Itasca, with a Wright motor built in New Jersey. Third place was Italy's so far as the machine went, but America took fourth with an Orco plane, the product of the Ordnance Engineering Corporation, powered with a Wright.

For comparisons with Mosely's performance it is necessary to refer to the Gordon Bennett cup race held at Etampes, France, two months ago. Radi Leconte, winner of that event, flew a Neupert over a course of 163.5 miles at slightly more than 169 miles an hour. In the trials he had

Prominent Army and Navy Men Express Appreciation of Race

MANY prominent army and navy officials and aviation enthusiasts expressed their keen appreciation of the record-breaking race and offered their congratulations to Ralph Pulitzer, praising the enterprise of The World and the part it played in making the event possible. Some of the men and their statements were:

Gen. Pershing: This is certainly a wonderful event. It offers my sincere congratulations to Mr. Pulitzer and of course to the always enterprising World. This contest, which no doubt will become permanent, will tend to do a great deal for the aviation branches of both the army and navy. I know from experience that aviation is one of our most important branches of the service, both in war as well as in peace.

Secretary Daniels: Mr. Pulitzer is surely to be congratulated. I am highly pleased that there has been no serious accident, which in itself shows that American planes are coming to the front with rapid strides. I hope to be able to witness next year's race for the same trophy.

Gen. Mouchier: The unequalled success of the race will go down in the history of lighter-than-air machines as one of the

MRS. WILSON'S PLEA SETS FREE CONVICTED STILL OPERATOR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving spirit proved too much for governmental red tape yesterday and John F. Schweinberg, convicted in Cincinnati of operating a gambling establishment, "Calvin" did his wife and six children after President Wilson, on the plea of Mrs. Wilson, had signed a pardon. Telegrapher O'Dowd received a petition from Schweinberg's pardon from Judge Peck in Cincinnati. The story stirred something in O'Dowd's system and he routed Attorney-General Palmer's secretary out of bed. Secretary Scott also felt that something and spent the night preparing a brief, which Palmer signed when called from his bath for the purpose.

When it went to Rudolph Forster, executive clerk of the White House, who told the story to Mrs. Wilson. And when she had done her part this message went back to Cincinnati. "President today pardoned John F. Schweinberg. He should be released at once."

RESTRAINING ORDERS AGAINST 72 CHICAGO SALOON KEEPERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Federal Judge Landis today issued restraining orders against 72 saloon keepers to prevent their violating the prohibition law.

Attorney-General Brundage of Illinois, who filed suit against the saloon men Wednesday, had asked that their places be closed.

Judge Landis also issued orders prohibiting the saloon keepers from removing or selling any liquor or fixtures in their places.

Violation of the orders, he warned them, will be followed by sentences for contempt of court.

The 72 injunction suits separately.

OKLAHOMA G. O. P. LEADER, WHO WAS SHOT IN HOTEL, DIES

National Committeeman Assailed to Have Wounded Himself Accidentally While Cleaning a Revolver.

STORY WOMAN IS INVOLVED DENIED

Insurance Company Delivered $200,000 Policy to J. L. Hamon Two Hours Before He Was Wounded.

By the Associated Press.
ARDMORE, Ok., Nov. 26.—Jake L. Hamon, Republican National Committeeman from Oklahoma, who was wounded here last Sunday night in a hotel room, died this morning at 8:15 o'clock.

According to Frank L. Ketch, his business manager, the wound resulted from the "accidental discharge" of a revolver which Hamon was cleaning.

A statement issued last night by Hamon's physicians stated that his condition was "not so favorable." The bulletin said Hamon had "slept a great deal Thursday and that there is no unfavorable condition was because of this."

The statement also said that Hamon had taken food yesterday, the first nourishment other than liquids that he had taken. At the time, according to the statement, no complications had developed, but the absence of continued improvement led to the unfavorable condition.

Warrant for Hamon.

Russell R. Brown, County Attorney, today reiterated his belief that the Smith woman had not left the county in a trade daily published at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, declared in its Wednesday issue that consumers are not getting the benefit of this reduction, and that retailers are exacting 50 to 100 per cent gross profit for the meat they sell. The Livestock Reporter has a large circulation among stockmen and farmers.

Calling attention to the fact that prices of cattle, sheep and hogs are lower, in some cases, than they were before the war, the Livestock Reporter, a trade daily published at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, declared in its Wednesday issue that consumers are not getting the benefit of this reduction, and that retailers are exacting 50 to 100 per cent gross profit for the meat they sell. The Livestock Reporter has a large circulation among stockmen and farmers.

Under the caption, "Does the City Man Know?" the article cites the fact that the bulk of butcher cart have, for several weeks, been selling on the hoof at pre-war prices; that hogs are selling for less than half what they brought last year, and that sheep and lambs on the hoof are almost 50 per cent lower than they were a year ago.

Consumer Not Benefiting.

Because of this, it says, many farmers are getting rid of their stock, as can be noted by the fact that there are a number of animals being shipped to farms for stocking and fattening purposes has greatly decreased. The reason for this may be realized, it says, when it is appreciated that the average carload of steers is bringing $1000 less at the yards now than it did in 1919. And, though the stock raiser is suffering this loss, it says, the consumer is not getting the benefit of it.

That the claim of the retailers that they have to maintain high prices in order to make a reasonable profit, the paper argues that, if such is really the case, the retail system is wasteful and uneconomical, and even hints at its "elimination."

"Making due allowance," it says, "for stagnation in hides, wool and by-products, the fact remains that the public is paying excessive prices, a large part of which goes for the upkeep of an expensive retail system of distribution."

50 to 100 Per Cent Profit.

"It has been shown that retail butchers have been exacting gross profits of 50 to 100 per cent, but many of them claim that this is necessary to cover increased operating expenses, and at the same time, allow themselves a reasonable margin of profit."

"It is not our desire to advocate the elimination or regulation of any legitimate business, although if we are to safeguard the interests of the producer and at the same time protect the consumer against an impending meat shortage, there should be immediate and effective economic steps taken in arriving at a remedy of existing conditions. High prices exacted on the producer in the shape of restricted consumption."

Many facts and quotations are given to show that there is an alarming decrease in meat production, and that the public is likely to be facing, within a short time, an actual shortage of meat animals.

POLICE JUDGE IN CLASH WITH CITY MARSHAL AND AIDS

Itiner Orders Courtroom Cleared, and Mohrstadt Sends People Back Into Room From Rotunda.

DEPUTIES REFUSE TO GO FOR DEFENDANTS

Man Who Refuses to Leave Is Fined for Contempt—Deputy Constable Also Assessed on Same Charge.

An interesting situation developed in Police Court today, following a clash between Judge Itiner and City Marshal Charles Mohrstadt regarding an order by the Judge to clear the courtroom of all but policemen and court attaches.

The trouble began when persons in the crowded courtroom—there were 122 cases on the docket—laughed at a remark made by a witness. Judge Itiner directed the Marshal's five deputies to order all but persons directly concerned in the cases on the docket to leave the courtroom. About 50 went out.

Later the Judge was again disturbed by loud talking among defendants and witnesses, and turning to the Chief Deputy Marshal, demanded that everyone but the policemen and court attaches be expelled from the room. The deputies escorted the crowd into the rotunda.

Mohrstadt Orders Crowd Back.

"I am going to declare a half hour's recess now," said Itiner, "and if there is no order in this room at the expiration of that time I will adjourn court until Saturday, and the deputies will have to look after the losing Saturday half holiday."

While Judge Itiner was absent from the courtroom, Marshal Mohrstadt appeared in the rotunda and addressed the crowd.

"You have been summoned to appear in Police Court and you are here," he said. "Go back into the courtroom and remain there."

Mohrstadt instructed his deputies to carry out no further orders to clear the courtroom.

The prisoners, all of whom furnished bond, registered at Central Police Station as John Lang, 50 years old, 4952 McMillan avenue; Frank Noble, 48, of 4575 Kennerly avenue; James Trusty, 42, of 1447 North Jefferson avenue; Barney Rubenstein, 47, of 4435 Evans avenue; Louis Noble, 53, of 4575 Kennerly avenue; Joseph Finch, 31, of 3742 Cote Brillante avenue; Michael Conley, 59, of 612 North Sixth street; Philip Volm, 48, of 6818 Clayton avenue; James E. Stanton, 43, of Hotel Statler; Henry Reind, 812 North Leonard avenue; and James Brooks, of 2623 Pine street. The latter two are negroes.

In Police Court today Capt. Stinger testified that when he entered the cigar store a majority of the men he later arrested were in a room. He said that there were two telephones on the wall and that in the hour which he spent there he answered at least 20 calls. He impersonated Lang, he said, but most of the persons arrested were not in the room. He said that he refused to talk to him when they recognized that his voice was not that of the proprietor. One man was deceived, Stinger said, and believing that he was talking to the proprietor, he entered the room. They later two are negroes.

Lang Denies Taking Bets.

Capt. Stinger exhibited a number of slips of paper which he confiscated in the raid. They bore names and numbers, and the Captain said that he had records of wagers on horse races. He also testified that persons who called at the store while he was present were cautioned by Lang to say nothing. He said that the entire stock of cigars in the place was worth no more than about $10.

Lang denied that he had been taking bets, but offered no explanation of the memorandums when Judge Itiner asked him about them. He said that the Captain said that he had records of wagers on horse races. He also testified that persons who called at the store while he was present were cautioned by Lang to say nothing. He said that the entire stock of cigars in the place was worth no more than about $10.

Two More North Dakota Banks Close, 15 in Two Weeks

Depleted Reserves Given as Reason for Closing of the Institutions.

By the Associated Press.
FARGO, N. D., Nov. 26.—Two more North Dakota State banks closed their doors today as a result of depleted reserves, bringing to 15 the number of financial institutions that have shut down for similar reasons in the last two weeks.

In a telephone message from Bismarck, O. E. Loftus, State bank examiner, said today that the reason for the closing of State banks at this time is owing to withdrawals exceeding collections to a point where the reserves have become depleted.

"The primary cause is the sudden drop in prices of grain and stocks to a point where if sold now will be a severe loss to the producer, and he refuses to sell."

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 26.—Return of steel prices to the base established by the United States Industrial board March 21, 1919, developed here today when the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., the largest of the independent interests, adopted new selling rates on certain finished steel products.

This reduction, the first to be made by independent interests in the Pittsburgh district, will not affect the wages, it was understood, of the approximately 25,000 persons in the company's employment.

The new prices, which are effective immediately, are: Bars, $2.35; structural sheets, $2.45; plates, $2.65; base Pittsburgh. Adjustments will be made on the prices for wire and cold rolled steel products.

The Jones & Laughlin Co. has not at anytime during the last year been asking for the top prices which many other independents have been receiving. The company said the lower prices are due to the deflation process generally prevalent in business at this time.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 26.—Independent steel companies of the Youngstown district, employing about 30,000 workers, announced today that they will meet the reduction of prices announced today by the Jones & Laughlin company of Pittsburgh, the cut to be effective at once.

Heads of the three largest independent corporations here declared a readjustment in the cost of both coal and labor will have to follow. They said that wherever labor costs with the independents are higher than the United States Steel Corporation, the wages will have to be reduced.

HEAD OF SINN FEIN ARRESTED IN DUBLIN

ARTHUR GRIFFITH

Chief Spokesman of Cause of Irish Freedom, Prof. MacNeill and Others Are Taken in 1:30 A. M. Raid and Removed to Unannounced Destination.

POLICE CUT DOOR CHAIN, BREAK WINDOW

Carpets Torn Up, Piano Broken in Search—Chief Secretary Says Prisoner Will Be Detained Pending Investigation.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Nov. 26.—Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, and Prof. John MacNeill, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for Londonderry City and the National University of Ireland, were arrested today by the British police.

A statement issued from Dublin Castle, the seat of the Government, with regard to the Griffith arrest said:

"Arthur Griffith was arrested at his residence in St. Lawrence road at 2 a. m. A large quantity of literature was taken from his house. No arms were found. He was in bed at the time, and was taken away in a motor lorry. He made no statement. His arrest was effected without trouble."

Among those arrested this morning were Joseph McBride and Dr. Duggan, Sinn Fein members of Parliament, respectively, for the west division of County Mayo, and the south division of Dublin.

In speaking of the raid on the house and her husband's arrest, Mrs. Griffith said:

"The reason why both Arthur and Prof. MacNeill are being taken away is that no moderate leaders will be left to guide the young men, and the British Government may think they will come out in order to massacre them."

Mrs. Griffith said she was awakened at 1:30 o'clock this morning by the crashing of a pane of glass in the front door of the Griffith home.

"I jumped to the window of our upstairs bedroom and called out," she continued. "The seven men comprising the party pointed revolvers at me, shouting, 'Come down at once!'"

Raiders Cut Door Chain.

"I turned and called to Arthur, 'Here they come, jump!' and then slipped on a dressing gown and ran downstairs. The men, all of them members of the auxiliary police, already had reached the landing. They had smashed the window and cut the door chain. They rushed into Arthur's room with revolvers pointed and placed him under arrest."

"When they took him away later I said to them, 'Where are you going to put him?' To this one of them replied, 'We are going to shoot or hang him as he jolly well deserves.' Our 7-year-old child—who had been sleeping by our bed—heard the remark, began to scream and became hysterical. As they drove away, however, another man shouted back, 'We are taking him to the Balaclava!'"

Mrs. Griffith said her husband had been sleeping at home for the first time in a week. She recalled that this was the third time he had been arrested. The first was in the winter of 1916, when he was kept imprisoned for eight months, and the second in 1914, in connection with the alleged pro-German conspiracy in Ireland, when he was held for 18 months.

"We had both been expecting this arrest," continued Mrs. Griffith, "and really it is a relief. I think we will both sleep better tonight, in more peace than we have had for many months."

Mrs. Griffith said the raiders had remained two hours and systematically searched the entire house.

"They tapped walls, tore up carpets, and searched every corner."

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY RECESSES DURING COMMITTEE WORK

Next Meeting Will Be Held Nov. 30—Committees for Most Part Seek Sure Solutions of Problems.

THREE NATIONS FIGHT BULGARS' ADMISSION

Disarmament Commission Adopts French View, Holding Any Program Must Consider Security of State.

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Nov. 26.—The attitude among delegates of the assembly of the League of Nations toward the appeal of the league to President Wilson to act as mediator in the Armenian situation appears to be one of hope without expectation that the United States will relieve Europe and the league of an embarrassing question.

Behind the admitted necessity of doing something for Armenia there is a conflict of European interests involved. Great Britain, it is understood, would look with great disfavor on intervention by any power having rival interests. Action by the United States in Armenia, it is held, would involve no such complications.

Default of action by President Wilson, general opinion here is that France is the country most likely to offer favorable reply to the mediation appeal. Acceptance, by France, however, it is understood, would be on condition of full support by the other powers.

Committee No. 6 of the assembly has finally settled upon the principle of its report on disarmament, the French viewpoint prevailing. The recommendation will be that disarmament be imposed only with due regard for the security of the different states. While a subcommittee is drawing up this report the committee is taking up the question of an economic blockade as an arm of the league against offending nations.

The council of the league this morning overruled the British objections to the provision by which mandates not holding mandates from the league for the administration of the colonies and former enemy powers or other territories to be administered under mandate of the league, are to have a majority of the permanent members of the council in the majority.

No meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations was held yesterday in order to give the members full time for committee work. While some of the committee are reported to be progressing with unexpected speed, their decisions are thus far mostly for sure and slow solutions.

After the membership committee has decided to make all the new Russian states wait for admission, and the amendment and disarmament committees had expressed themselves in favor of delay, the committee on finances and economic cooperation decided yesterday it would not act at present on the suggestion of a committee of financiers be chosen to lay plans for an international credit institution.

New Conference Likely. If the assembly approves the committee's decision, another international financial conference will be held next year before anything is done on the suggestions made at the Brussels conference. This is understood to be the plan advocated by the British.

Austria is the only former enemy state which is likely to be admitted to the league without serious opposition. The majority of members of the subcommittee dealing with the applications of Austria, Bulgaria, Albania and Liechtenstein, provided over by Lord Robert Cecil, are said to favor the admission of Bulgaria, but the Russian and Jugoslavians have declared they will fight against it, asserting that the entrance of Bulgaria into the league now would create a grave complication.

Three Nations Against Bulgaria. Serbia, Rumania and Greece formally notified the assembly yesterday that they were opposed to the admission of Bulgaria into the league. These countries said they would strenuously oppose the entry of Bulgaria during the present session of the assembly on condition that it would be a grave injustice to the peoples of the three states. In an interview with the Associated Press, M. Spalekovich, head of the Serbian delegation, explained the reasons the three nations have united to fight the entrance of Bulgaria. He appeared before the Membership Committee and outlined to it the position of the three nations. The Bulgarian Charge d'Affaires in Bern was present.

We believe Bulgaria should be admitted," M. Spalekovich said, "but only after she has given strong indication that she is willing to live in peace with her neighbors. Promises without action will not satisfy us."

Organization of the clerical staff of the league passed a critical examination yesterday by a committee of four. The bodies of which Baron Taniro Negato of Japan demanded a more impartial selection of the personnel of the secretariat from among the different nationalities belonging to the league. Sir James Eric Drummond, permanent secretary of the league, explained that the English and French necessarily predominated.

League's Message to Wilson Asking for Mediation in Armenia

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Nov. 26.—The Council of the League of Nations yesterday cabled President Wilson, at the same time as messages of the same purport were sent to various powers, asking whether he will accept the role of mediator between Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, and the Armenians.

The text of the message to President Wilson follows: "The Assembly of the League of Nations passed on Nov. 25 a resolution couched in the following terms: 'The Assembly, anxious to co-operate with the Council in order to put an end within the shortest time possible to the horrors of the Armenian tragedy, has requested the Council to arrive at an understanding with the Governments with the view of entrusting a Power with the task of taking necessary measures to stop hostilities between the Kemalists and the Armenians.'"

The Council of the League has, after consideration, decided to transmit this resolution to the Governments of all states members of the league and also to the Government of the United States. The object is to send a Power which will use its good offices to put an end as speedily as possible to the present terrible tragedy.

The proposal does not involve a repetition of the invitation to accept a mandate for Armenia. The Council does not wish to suggest an assumption of duties which might be unwelcome, but has felt bound to offer to the United States the opportunity of undertaking this humanitarian task since the fate of Armenia always has been of special interest to the American people and the President of the United States has already agreed to delimit the boundaries of that country. At the matter is of great urgency the Council ventures to ask for a reply with the shortest possible delay."

The message is signed by Paul Hymans, President of the Assembly of the League of Nations.

because English and French are the official languages of the league.

League's Message Delivered to the President. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Wilson received today the appeal of the League of Nations that he act as mediator in the Armenian situation. The message reached the White House last night from Geneva and was delivered to the President this morning.

Mr. Wilson already has consented to fix the boundary lines of Armenia, but there was no information at the White House as to his ideas on the subject of mediation.

HEAD OF SINN FEIN, WITH OTHER LEADERS, ARRESTED. Continued From Page One.

Greenwood Says Griffith Is Detained Pending Inquiry. By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 26.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in the House of Commons this afternoon, read a telegram from Dublin concerning the arrest of Arthur Griffith, saying he was taken into custody during the systematic raids which were being made throughout Dublin following last Sunday's murders of British officers.

The message said a quantity of documents taken during the systematic raids which were being made throughout Dublin following last Sunday's murders of British officers.

The message said a quantity of documents taken during the systematic raids which were being made throughout Dublin following last Sunday's murders of British officers.

Griffith Most Active Spokesman for the Cause in Ireland. In the absence in America of Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Republic, Arthur Griffith has been probably the most active spokesman in Ireland for the cause of Irish freedom. In a recent interview he charged the policy of reprisals in Ireland was determined upon by England more than a year ago and began last March with the assassination of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork.

Everybody in Ireland deplored the bloodshed, Griffith said, "but England started it, and she could get it stopped in 24 hours if she so wished." He disclaimed any responsibility for the operations of the "murder gang" the existence of which he charged by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a recent speech. The real "murder gang" was in Dublin, he said, and he was in Dublin when Griffith came into prominence in 1917, when he presided at the opening of the Sinn Fein conference in Dublin. In a by-election in June, 1918, he was elected to the House of Commons for East Cork, and was returned for this constituency and Northwest Tyrone in the general election of the same year. Like the other Sinn Fein members, however, he refrained from taking his seat after the general election. Last year he was elected one of the vice-presidents of the Sinn Fein organization. During the hunger strike of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork he was the author of an appeal to President Wilson and all the heads of Governments on behalf of the Lord Mayor, that the English and French necessarily predominated.

RIOT AT MACSWINEY MASS IN NEW YORK

Crowd From Church Begins Demonstration on Sight of British Flag on Club.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The usual quiet observation of Thanksgiving day here was violently interrupted shortly after noon yesterday when a crowd that had attended a high requiem mass in memory of Terence MacSwiney, former Lord Mayor of Cork, broke into rioting at the sight of a British flag decorating the facade of the Union Club across Fifth avenue from St. Patrick's Cathedral.

After a fight participated in by hundreds of Irish sympathizers, the course of which all windows on the lower floor of the club were shattered by missiles hurled by members of the mob, order was restored when a cordon of 200 police established itself around the beleaguered building. The Union Jack, which was the cause of the assault, though taken down at the first demand of the crowd and subsequently replaced, still was draped over the sidewalk with the emblems of France and the United States when the fracas ended.

When the clamor of the first rush on the Union Jack was at its height the Rt. Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's, clad in his ministerial robes, rushed out of the church and joined in the fray with the leaders to quell the disturbance.

After mounted and motorcycle police had dispersed the mob a survey revealed casualties including a dozen or more slightly injured who had been struck by flying bricks.

Before the beginning of the MacSwiney mass, the attendance at which taxed the utmost capacity of the great cathedral, a delegation of Irish requested that the British flag be removed. The club superintendent complied, but later, on instructions from club officials, the flag was replaced.

Lloyd George Says Conciliation in Ireland Is Not Possible Now. By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 26.—The House of Lords yesterday carried the second reading of the Irish home rule bill, rejecting a proposal for adjournment. The committee stage of the measure will be started next Wednesday.

The Irish problem again was brought up in the House of Commons yesterday and the question of conciliation between the Irish people was raised. Premier Lloyd George, giving his opinion in the matter, declared:

"I have always been convinced that no policy of conciliation is possible in Ireland until the reign of terror has been broken, and the obvious reason that men in Ireland who would be prepared to enter into negotiations at the present time are in terror of their lives and cannot do so freely."

Answering another question, the Premier said the Cabinet had come to the deliberate conclusion that it was not desirable to propose a force martial law in Ireland. He believed it would not help, even if it were applied.

Irish Clergy Send Protest to Pope Against British Acts. By the Associated Press. ROME, Nov. 26.—Pope Benedict has received a protest, couched in strong terms, from the Irish episcopacy and clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, against the British policy in Ireland.

Dublin Editor and Others Accused on Four Charges. By the Associated Press. DUBLIN, Nov. 26.—The court-martial which is trying Directors Martin Fitzgerald and Hamilton Edwards and Editor P. J. Hooper of the Freeman's Journal, under the restoration of order in Ireland act, yesterday found the defendants not guilty on four charges—first, making a false statement; second, spreading a report likely to cause disaffection; third, making a statement intended to cause disaffection, and fourth, making a statement likely to cause disaffection.

Judgment now will be promulgated on two charges: First, unlawfully spreading a false report, and second, spreading a report intended to cause disaffection to his majesty.

Pulitzer Airplane Race the Most Successful Ever Held in America

WINNER OF PULITZER TROPHY IN AIR RACE

Unapproached Before in View of Attendance and the Interest Taken by the Public.

Official Speed Record. The official speed record for a mile on a closed course is at the rate of 192 miles an hour, made by Bernard de Ronanet at Buc, France. Sadi Lecoqne has driven a mile at 144.

While on paper Mosely's ride stands at a shade under the race, three miles per minute, it was beaten this by five and one-half miles.

A big turnout to witness the race had been expected. The reality amazed the most optimistic. Roads leading to Mitchell Field were literally choked with motor traffic for an hour before and after the time set for the start, while the Long Island specials, run direct to the field, carried thousands and other thousands made the trip from Garden City on the decrepit trolley cars which purport to cater to army traffic.

At 11 o'clock, which had been named as the moment for the start, spectators stood three and four, and in front of the Contest Committee headquarters, 10 and 12 deep the length of the aviation field. At Farmingdale and other points along the course, other thousands waited for the passing of the planes. Beside every roadway within the great triangle drawn on the Hempstead Harbor motorway, cars packed whose occupants gazed heavenward in anticipation.

Crowds Cause Delays. The early course caused the officers of the Aero Club of America under whose auspices the race was held, a lot of trouble by swarming on the field before the M. P.'s were able to get them in control. At the airport, the crowd was so large that it was necessary to delay the first take-off 20 minutes. Within that time the public had been forcibly driven back of the ropes.

Weather conditions were all that could be desired. Overhead was a gray cloud ceiling, which between 9 and 11 o'clock lifted from 900 feet to 2000 feet, and the sun shone brightly for the flyers that bright sunshine.

There was a touch of frost in the air, and an hour before the race started the wind was from the northwest—a puff at earth level which merely shook the "stocking" indicator at the flying chief's hut and not the more substantial planes along the air lines. On the first and shortest leg of the triangular course, seven miles into the southeast, it was mildly helpful. For the rest of the way the wind caught it on their beams, but not with enough punch to cause complaint.

A hard-working committee had given unlimited attention to perfecting arrangements for the race, so that it should be without a hitch. Caleb S. Bragg, was acting chairman of this committee and was in charge of affairs at the field. The timing station was on the roof of the contest committee's headquarters. A magnetic timing device was installed with the aid of binoculars, the timers, Richard P. Hoyt and T. A. Leavelle, were able to get results down to thousands of a second.

WINNER OF PULITZER TROPHY IN AIR RACE

son of the noise they made as they wheeled back across the field for their start.

They were Curtiss-Kirk triplanes, with Curtiss-Kirk 450-horsepower engines. Speedy and powerful contrivances they are, but they whistle as they fly, and for this reason the spectators attached to them the name "Whistling Billes," which probably will stick.

In one of the machines Roland Rohlf made his world's altitude record last year. Both entries yesterday were in the control of navy pilots.

The Vought VE-7s, a special navy ship, to the pilotage of which yesterday the marine corps contributed three men, commanded their share of admiration. Stock machines, which the Navy Department had loaned to the contest, they were in any fashion for the promotion of their chances to win, delivered an excellent account of themselves, and one of them, driven by Lieut. A. Lawrence, U. S. N., won the prize in the main event. This was the more remarkable because it was a victory for a 180-horsepower engine pitted against running to 400 and 450.

In the monoplane division there were Leornings and a French machine, the Morane Saulnier, with 110-horsepower air-cooled rotary engine. This was a fast machine, but it was not a favorite for scouting in France.

Word had spread through the crowd that something unusual was expected of the Verville army racer and the Morane Saulnier. It was standing while the others took off on the side of the field remotest from the spectators, so that the first view they had was when it took to the air.

The start after 12 o'clock. The machine lifted after a brief run and heading west, passed close enough to the heads of visitors for them to see the remarkable fish-shaped body and tail, the aluminum covering bunched over its mighty engine and its natural wood color wings with their accented stager. Then, leaving a trail of smoke behind, it passed from view.

It went further on its warning-up flight than any of its competitors, climbing and making well toward Jamaica before it turned back to Mitchell Field. As it swung around for its timing it was noted that the engine seemed to be working perfectly, and the pilot had his plane in perfect control.

If she keeps up that pace for the distance "there's nothing to it," went along the line of army and navy men who knew flying, as with a roar the sturdy racer headed into the southwest. It was out of sight in hardly more than a minute from its start.

Brushes Between Planes. It was about the time the Verville got away that some incoherent brushes began to appear between planes rounding the Mitchell Field control. Spectators saw five, six and even 10 at a time coming out of the east. Two or three of them were certain to be bunched.

A De Havilland stood on the edge of its wing as it rounded the control and straightened out for the beginning of another lap. A Leoning maneuvered, flying a bat out of hell, as a "mech" put it, was hard on its tail, and swinging past the judges in its turn, put after the D. H. It climbed to the other's track with the efficiency of a giant after an elephant, and ere the machines passed from view had won a good lead.

This was but a single instance from a score. The pilots put all their past performance in front of the gallery, banking at the turn until it seemed as if they would certainly land on their wings edge before they could pull out. But they never did.

Not the least contribution to the spectacular side of the race was the altitude at which it was flown. It had been expected that the machines would be around the 300 to 500-foot levels, but most of them chose to clip the tree tops, and some skimmed Mitchell Field low enough to cut the daisies, had there been any to cut.

Thrills for Spectators. Capt. Hartney kept his lead on all four laps. The first time around he barely missed turning inside of the balloon at Lufbery Field. From the point of view of the spectators there Lieut. B. G. Bradley, in a Leoning, provided the most thrills. Flying at high speed and at such a low altitude that he seemed to barely clear the tops of the trees, he made his turns sharply, banking his machine so that the wings were almost perpendicular as he rounded the mark, and then gracefully came back to an even keel as he set out for Damme Field. As he passed over Lufbery on his fourth and last lap, it was seen that he was experiencing engine trouble. Soon after setting out for Damme Field, he made as if to descend, but after a few moments of seeming hesitation he climbed to a higher altitude and continued on his way. He came down just short of the finish with a broken water connection.

On the second lap Capt. Mosely flew over Lufbery Field in the thirty-third position, on third lap he was thirty-third, and on the last lap, twenty-sixth. Lieut. Bradley also picked up on earlier starters, moving from fifth place on the first time around to third on the second lap, and to second on the third and fourth laps.

On his second time around, Lieut. F. A. Johnson in a S. E. 5 was forced to alight on Lufbery Field when he developed engine trouble. He landed safely. He explained that one side of his motor was burned out through his efforts to keep his machine at top speed. When he was forced to alight he was turning at 142 miles an hour. His plane was tuned to do only 140 he declared.

An Extra Entry. The army ambulance plane, an extra entry with a Red Cross on its side, elicited the humorous observations that it looked like a Borden's Milk entry. One machine persisted in flying at such a high altitude that at no time could the judges or spectators determine its number. A camouflaged S. E. 5, without a number, also was the subject of much conjecture on the part of judges and spectators concerning its identity.

The turning point at Henry J. Damme Field was marked by a windmill on the August Belmont estate, which was awarded in white cloth streamers, stood out a great grim spectre in the haze.

At Lufbery Field the turn was somewhat larger than a right angle; at Henry J. Damme it was less than 90 degrees. Individually marked the manner in which the various planes took this "hairpin" bend.

Certain machines, notably the De Havilland driven by Lieut. Verville, the army, Bradley's Leoning Special and Sergeant Dunn's Vought VE-7, took the turn only a few yards above the upper spokes of the wind wheel, and "banked" until their wings were at right angles almost perpendicular to the ground.

Another De Havilland driven by Lieut. Roullot, did not bank at all, but shot past the windmill at tremendous speed and continued several hundred yards in the general direction of Central Islip before striking upon its eventual path toward Mineola.

Lieut. Dunn's De Havilland "cut" the windmill by a good quarter of a mile on its first lap and was obliged to detour to make the turn.

Capt. Carolyn De Havilland flew so high on all of its four laps as to require glasses to distinguish its number. Another plane flew even higher.

TWO INJUNCTIONS AGAINST PICKETING ISSUED BY FARIS

Federal Judge Reverses a Former Decision and Acts
in Accordance With Court of Appeals Ruling.

JURISDICTION MAIN POINT AT ISSUE

Higher Court Held That Picketing Interferes With Interstate Commerce and Comes Under Sherman Act.

Injunctions were issued today by Federal Judge Faris against two labor unions restraining them from picketing on the ground that picketing constitutes interference with interstate shipments in violation of the Sherman act, and is therefore the Court's jurisdiction.

Previously he refused an injunction, holding a view contrary to that of the high court. His withdrawal of that action and reinstatement of the case, and his granting of the injunctions in the other cases, was on the strength of decisions of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

The question of jurisdiction turned upon whether picketing by union members was an actual or merely potential interference with interstate commerce of the concerns seeking relief under the terms of the Sherman act. In his first decision, the judge held that there was no jurisdiction because there had been no actual interference with such shipment.

The cases are the American Car Co. against the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen; the Herbert & Meisel Trunk Co. and others against the United Leather Workers; and the Nelson-Pollock Clothing Co. and others against the Clothing Workers of America.

In the American Car Co. case, when originally heard, it was held that although there was no diversity of citizenship to confer jurisdiction, it was acquired through the clause of the Sherman act which declares illegal any contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among other States or foreign nations. It was claimed that the combination of strikers to picket was an interference with interstate commerce. Judge Faris held that there was no jurisdiction unless actual shipments were shown.

In withdrawing the decision and reinstating the case today, Judge Faris said that after deciding the car company case he had found that it was not in harmony with decisions of the Court of Appeals and it became his duty, regardless of any personal views or convictions that he might hold, to defer to and follow the Court of Appeals.

In the Pollock case a temporary injunction was granted. In the Herbert & Meisel case a permanent injunction was granted.

CITY CALLS ON LACLEDE GAS CO. FOR INFORMATION TO COMBAT RATE INCREASE

Request for Data as to Firm's Business in Seventeen Groupings—Answer to Be Made on Dec. 3.

A request for information concerning its business under 17 groupings today was made of the Laclede Gas Light Co. by First Associate City Counselor Hamilton, who desires to use it to combat the company's application for permission to raise its rate for gas to St. Louis householders from $5 cents to $1.25 per 1000 feet. The increase means that the city would yield $2,800,000 more next year for gas than it would for the present rate was continued.

The company's application was filed under its application before the Public Service Commission in Jefferson City on Wednesday. The city will be called upon to present its opposition to the rate on Dec. 7.

Other of the queries are for information which the city will use to support its contention that the city government should not be compelled to pay the Laclede company at its maximum rate, $5 cents, as it now does, but that it is entitled to the minimum rate of 50 cents which is that given to large consumers.

The city uses approximately 335,000,000 feet of gas annually, at the lower rate its bill for gas would be approximately $117,500 a year less than it now is.

The company's application is based upon contracts which it has made for gas, which would cost it approximately $2,800,000 over the price it now pays and upon certain assumptions of the volume of gas sales it will make in 1921, together with the amount of residuals it will obtain from gas making and the price at which it will sell the residuals.

Information Asked For.

The city's inquiries are for information from the company's records upon which, Consulting Engineer C. E. Smith expects to set up an assumption in contradiction of the company's. It is expected that Smith's assumption will be that the company has estimated its gas sales for 1921 too low in the light of the present sales, that the volume of by-products is low in the company's estimate and that there is no reason to expect that it will obtain, as it declares, a less price for coke than it now does.

One of the city's requests also is designed to show what dollars and cents increase in gas bills small consumers may expect from the new rate, if granted.

The testimony at the hearing disclosed that the M. W. Warren Coke Co., an organization which has its offices in the Laclede Gas building, produces, as middleman, three of the Laclede's 1921 coal contracts, buying from producers and selling to the Laclede. The Warren company also is the middleman for the distribution of Laclede coke, for which it receives a commission of 5 per cent.

M. W. Warren, secretary of the coke company, attended three sessions of the hearing in Jefferson City and it was stated that he would take the stand to tell of the contracts. The company closed its case without presenting Warren as a witness and when City Counselor Daues asked that he be put on the stand, it was learned that he had returned to St. Louis. Daues was seeking to question Warren concerning what profit his company makes on its Laclede contracts.

Purchasing Agents Testify.

The Laclede Company, in justifying all its coal contracts, presented its purchasing agents and other officers to testify that they had made a diligent search for coal, but had been able to obtain little. Daues also wanted to ask Warren how his company came to have a supply of coal, when Laclede agents were finding much difficulty in obtaining any.

The last witness for the Laclede was James E. Allison, a St. Louis consulting engineer, who testified that the Laclede was entitled to earn 12 per cent on a valuation of $59,000,000, which the company asserted to be the value of its plant. He declared that public utilities were now being required to distribute to stockholders between 9 and 10 per cent to attract new capital.

The Laclede's present application for a $1.25 gas was amplification of an application made last July to be permitted to charge $1. At that time, the commission ordered its accounting department to make an audit of the books of the company to determine what return the Laclede was getting from its price of 5 cents.

The report of the accounting department, completed just before this week's hearing ended, showed that the company had, in the year ending last July 31, earned enough at the 5-cent rate to pay all its operating expenses, the interest on its bonded indebtedness, make a proper depreciation and to have a surplus of $510,000 for application on common-stock dividends.

Contentions of the City.

It is the contention of the city that the Laclede is entitled to earn nothing on common stock, on the ground that it was originally issued as a bonus and represents no capital paid in. The accountant's report showed that the 5-cent rate was yielding 7.5 per cent on a valuation of $27,000,000, which the commission's engineers estimate as the approximate value of the Laclede properties.

By making the audit, the commission's expert found that the Laclede company was making charges totaling $224,790 improperly to operating expenses, and that the sum should have been charged against non-recurring revenue, instead of saying that this sum should be paid from funds available for stockholders.

Louis police would take care of him. McAtee says that during the time he was at the police station he was not permitted to communicate with his family. He admits that he served five years in prison for burglary and larceny and says he was pardoned in 1914. He came to East St. Louis from Quincy a few days ago and had not obtained employment.

Chief of Detectives Nevill of East St. Louis denies that McAtee was mistreated while in custody. He said that he saw McAtee yesterday morning, when he signed a plea of guilty to vagrancy and that at no time did he show marks of having been beaten. He was not the kind of man that he wanted in East St. Louis, even if not guilty of the robbery, the Chief said, and he was given until Monday to leave town. The records show that he was released at 8:45 o'clock last night. Nevill denied that he was sent to St. Louis in an automobile.

Justice Kane said that he went to the police station at 9:30 p. m. and received McAtee's plea of guilty and released him. He did not notice any marks of a beating, and did not know whether the man was taken away in an automobile.

Dr. Lawrence Ryan, assistant coroner and physician, said he did not attend McAtee at the police station.

field came into prominence as a prospective producer, and is said to have amassed a fortune of $5,000,000 within a period of three years from his oil operations.

St. Louis Company Issued $200,000 Policy on Hamon's Life.

The International Life Insurance Co., headquarters of which are in St. Louis, at Eighth and Chestnut streets, issued a policy for $200,000 on Hamon's life recently, delivering it to him at the hotel exactly two hours before he was shot. The policy was delivered by the company's Oklahoma State agent. The insurance company, in keeping with custom, reinsured $175,000 of the risk in other companies, since a risk running into six figures is considered unwise for one company. Republican National Committee member Jacob L. Babler of Missouri is vice president of the International Life Insurance Co.

SHIP WRECK REPEATS CHARGE AGAINST BOLLING

Tucker Sands Says President Wilson's Brother-in-Law and Others Shared in $25,000.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Tucker K. Sands, former vice president of the Commercial National Bank, Washington, today reiterated before the Congressional Committee investigating the Shipping Board affairs that R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, had shared in a $40,000 payment to procure a Shipping Board contract for a shipbuilding concern.

Bolling, treasurer of the board, Lester Sisler, secretary, a Downey Corporation representative named Cranor and he had shared in $25,000 of the $40,000, Sands said.

The money was distributed as a result of the Providence Engineering Corporation's receipt of a contract for the construction of 10 tugboats for the Shipping Board, Sands testified.

"You are not prompted in making these statements by a spirit of blackmail or of holding these men up to public scorn?" Sands was asked. "No, sir, no, sir," Sands said, adding that he was "sorry they had been brought into it."

Would Produce Checks.

Sands declared that he had given the committee all the evidence in his possession, and that he would produce the checks, canceled now, by which, he said, he had distributed the money procured from discount of notes, received from Wallace Downey, Wallace Downey Shipbuilding Corporation, and head of the Providence Engineering Corporation.

Sands said he thought the occasion for a visit to him in his hotel rooms in Washington by Bolling and Sisler "was in connection with the tugboat contract."

"Do you know if they helped to get the contract?" Sands was asked. "I think they did," he replied, adding that they never talked to him about it except that when he inquired "How it was coming along?" he was told "encouragingly."

Fifteen thousand dollars of the $40,000 never was distributed because he never had received it from Downey, Sands said in explaining the discrepancy between the $25,000 he said was distributed and the $40,000 he said was intended to be distributed.

Sands also testified that Bolling as partner in an now defunct brokerage concern, to which Sands had advanced $20,000, was eventually released from his share of the debt because he had sufficient securities when the firm failed. When it did fail, Sands said, Bolling had withdrawn from the partnership.

"Bolling had had a rough deal," so I let him out of it," Sands said. "Besides, I still had his securities."

Questioned as to Letter.

Sands said that he did not mention this matter to Bolling in connection with the alleged distribution of the $25,000 for the Downey contracts.

Sands denied that he ever wrote an anonymous letter to the Shipping Board or to the Department of Justice, or that he had suggested that anyone else write such a letter.

"Did you ever threaten to make it hot for Mr. Bolling if he did not intercede for you in the matter of the indictment which still is pending against you?" Committee Chairman Walsh asked.

Sands replied that at a conference with Bolling, at which he said he asked the President's brother-in-law to intercede for him, he "might have said" that if the matter of his indictment was not fixed up "it might make more trouble for you than you can think of," Sands said.

He was "very much upset" at the time and might have made some such remark.

90 FRENCH FAMILIES WITH 1222 CHILDREN REWARDED

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Ninety French families have been awarded 25,000 francs each by the Academie Française for their "heroic merit in bringing up large families." They were the first awards under the terms of the will of Theodor Cognac-Jay, a French philanthropist, and were presented by Raymond Foncea.

The 90 families had a total of 1222 children, of which one family had 70 children; four, 19 each; three, 18; five, 17; six, 16; two, 15; and 10, 12. The others were smaller.

The awards made, regardless of wealth or position, likely were influenced though by the fact that every family had lost two or more members in the war.

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—The bodies of two persons killed in the wreck of the Grand Trunk flyer near here last night were positively identified today as those of M. J. Sullivan of St. Louis, Mo., and Emmanuel Brown, a sleeping car porter.

An official statement issued this afternoon by the Grand Trunk railway said that more than two persons lost their lives when pullman coaches of the flyer left the rails and were sidestepped by a passing freight train. Several passengers were seriously injured.

SECOND DEATH FROM SHOOTING AT INN IN COUNTY

Ben Funke, Ex-Convict, Succumbs to Wound in Neck Received at Rigoletto Inn Sunday.

The second death resulting from the shooting at and near Rigoletto Inn, St. Louis County, last Monday morning, is that of Ben "Cotton" Funke, 23 years old, ex-convict and notorious criminal, whose friend and associate, Ben Milner, was instantly killed. Funke died yesterday morning at the city hospital from a bullet wound in the neck.

Although mortally wounded, Funke was taken to the jail at Clayton at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning, and locked in a cell, where he remained until late that afternoon, when he was taken, on foot, to the Courthouse, and placed on the witness stand at the inquest. His testimony was vague and confused, and he continued to groan that he was in pain. At that time a piece of court plaster had been stuck on the place where the bullet entered his neck.

After the inquest he was again placed in a cell, where he remained until Wednesday afternoon, when he was taken to the home of his brother, Oliver Funke, 916 Salisbury street, Testimony given there said that he was taken to the house when no body was at home, and that whoever brought him sat him in a chair, and went away. Members of the family found him there later.

They became alarmed at his condition Wednesday night, and he was taken to the city hospital at 12:30 a. m. yesterday, where he died three hours later. Physicians there said today that his case was too far advanced when he was received there for any adequate aid to be given him.

The bullet had entered behind his left ear, and passed through his neck. A wound, they said, is always dangerous.

Order to Hold Funke Denied.

It was said today at the Sheriff's office at Clayton that the Prosecuting Attorney and the Coroner had ordered Funke held. Those officials promptly denied this. Coroner Denney said that when he saw Funke at the inquest he immediately perceived him to be seriously injured, and he told Sheriff Bopp he saw no reason for holding him. Prosecuting Attorney Ralph said neither he nor his assistants ordered Funke held, and that even if they had, he could have been just as easily confined at a hospital, as wounded prisoners often are.

Upon his arrival at Clayton Monday morning, Funke was taken to the office of Dr. C. C. Eggers, County Health Commissioner, and was given treatment by Dr. Roy Sample, Dr. Eggers' assistant. Dr. Sample said today he was under the impression that the wound was not serious.

"Bolling had had a rough deal," so I let him out of it," Sands said. "Besides, I still had his securities."

Questioned as to Letter.

Sands said that he did not mention this matter to Bolling in connection with the alleged distribution of the $25,000 for the Downey contracts.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY TO FORGERY AND IS PAROLED

Judge's Action Following
Two-Year Sentence Is on Recommendation of the Prosecutor.

Mrs. Annabell McClelland, 26 years old, of 352 Whittier street, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery before Circuit Judge Hille today, and was sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary. The judge then granted a parole, on recommendation of Assistant Circuit Attorney Lacy, who conducted the prosecution.

Lacy mentioned, as a reason for clemency, the fact that Mrs. McClelland had a small child.

Judge Hille, in announcing the parole, called the woman's husband, Homer McClelland, forward, and told him that Mrs. McClelland would have to serve her sentence if she showed any further propensity to dishonesty. The wife had stated that McClelland did not know of her transactions with checks.

At the time of her arrest, July 16, the police were informed that about 50 forged checks, passed at various stores within four months, were attributed to her. In passing the checks, the blue-penciled "O K" of the checkwalkers and department managers was also forged on them. The checks were drawn on neighborhood banks, and were signed with various feminine names. Most of them were for comparatively small sums.

The woman, in her visits to the stores, dressed plainly, but was usually accompanied by her little girl, who was more expensively dressed.

She was finally traced by store detectives through the child, and by comparison of handwriting of her checks with one which Mrs. McClelland had signed with her own name.

The check named in the charge to which she pleaded guilty was for $12 and was dated May 4 last.

$3000 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE STOLEN AT DEPOTS RECOVERED

Acting upon information supplied by Otto Villinger, a teamster, under arrest in connection with the theft of $30,000 worth of merchandise from freight platforms in the last 15 months, the police today recovered part of the stolen merchandise, valued at $3000. They had recovered $2000 worth Tuesday, after Villinger's arrest and confession.

The merchandise recovered today was found in two stores conducted by Isadore Gast, or Gascozovitz, one at Spring and Cottage avenues and the other, known as the "Easton Avenue Bazaar," at 2143 Thomas street. It consisted of boys' blouses—97 dozen of them—and a large quantity of bolted cloth and miscellaneous dress goods. This was part of shipments which were loaded on Villinger's wagon at the Rice-Strix Dry Goods Co. warehouse for transfer to freight depots.

Gascozovitz, who uses the name Gast in business transactions, said that he bought the goods from a man whom Villinger already had designated as the "master mind" in the thefts. Gascozovitz was taken into custody and promised to produce the canceled checks with which he paid for the loot.

More evidence of the parsimonious "master mind" was given by Villinger, who said the man paid him $100 for stealing the goods valued at $3000. On other occasions he said, the man paid him $75 for stealing $5000 worth. Villinger's method was to deliver a small part of the shipments to the freight house, get a receipt, and divert the remainder to place named by the other man.

The place and the circumstances of the shooting of Funke never have been definitely established. Funke himself said that he started from "Jaxland," a cafe and saloon, at Grand and Easton avenues, to Rigoletto Inn, last Sunday night, with several men whose names he did not give. "I never got there, though," he said at the inquest. "Somebody bumped me off on the road."

He was found at 7 a. m. Monday in the basement of a house at 7210 Clayton avenue, where he had crawled. H. W. Varnbroeck, occupant of the house, told of witnessing a pistol fight between the occupants of two speeding automobiles in front of the house about 11:30 o'clock Sunday night.

A party of Italians had been at "Jaxland" near Grand and Easton avenues before proceeding to Rigoletto Inn, and one of the women in the party told of following another automobile to the cafe, and afterwards to the inn. In a shooting at the inn, Milner was killed, and Dan O'Neill, a friend of Milner and Funke, also is believed to have received his wounds there.

Funke said that he was a serious robber who held up Gerhardt's jewelry store, 3234 Olive street, but was released.

POSSE MEMBER ARRESTED WHEN DOGS ON TRAIL GO TO HIS HOME

Another Man Also Tracked From Scene Where Woman Was Shot
To His Bed.

By the Associated Press.

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 26.—When bloodhounds trailing the supposed slayer of Mrs. Lewis Morris, 54 years old, whose body was found on a farm near here yesterday, led a Sheriff's posse of which he was a member to his own home, Roy Miner, 22-year-old son of a wealthy manufacturer of this city, was immediately arrested. Miner joined the posse when the dogs started on the trail at the place where the body, with the head nearly blown off by a shotgun charge, was discovered by his father-in-law, J. E. Johnson, on the Johnson farm, which adjoins that of the slain woman. He remained with it while the dogs carried the trail to the Johnson home, where he lived, and to the bed occupied by him the previous night.

Johnson, who reported to the authorities on finding the body that he had heard Mrs. Morris "order an unknown man from her premises," and later heard a gun shot, also was placed under arrest on information that the Johnson and Morris families, previous to the killing, had been quarreling. Neither of the men has made any statements.

YOUTH GETS 7-YEAR SENTENCE FOR ROBBERY AND BURGLARY

Two Other Charges Are Dropped After He Enters Plea of Guilty.

Donald Maher, 19 years old, who gave various addresses when arrested Sept. 30, pleaded guilty today in Circuit Judge Hille's court to charges of highway robbery and burglary. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on the burglary charge. Two other charges of first degree robbery were nolle prossed.

On Sept. 2 Maher held up Sam Katofsky, 2863 Union avenue, near Frank R. Tate, theater owner; William Fisher, vice president of the Himmelmuth-Spackler Real Estate Co.; James P. Blake of the John A. Blake & Bro. Real Estate Co.; and Phillips W. Moss, attorney.

Two of those behind the Kief reelection movement, Hedges and Moss, are residents of Webster Groves, and as they reside outside of the city will not have a vote in the election.

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER MARRIES MRS. ROWLEY

Bride Is Sister of James Hope Nelson, Who Married St. Louis Girl.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Duke of Westminster and Mrs. Violet Rowley were married today at a local registrar's office. She is 28 years old. The duke was divorced by the daughter of the famous beauty, Mrs. Cornwallis-West, and sister of the Princess of Wales. She was married five weeks after the decree to Capt. Lewis, actor and one time a member of the "Follies" company.

The Duke's bride is the youngest daughter of Sir William Nelson, owner of the Nelson Line and a reputed millionaire. She married Capt. Rowley of the Guards, but in May of this year she obtained a divorce decree against him. As in the Duke of Westminster's suit, the woman's name was not given in court. This decree was made absolute Nov. 15 and the Duke gave notice of his coming marriage to Mrs. Rowley before the registrar yesterday.

The bride is pretty and of fragile figure, but a fearless horsewoman and they first became acquainted in the hunting field. Last winter, when the Duke was at Monte Carlo in his yacht she was there also, both playing in the Casino every evening. The Duke usually plays maximums on the dozens and has a pretty consistent luck. The Nelson family is Catholic and some years ago Mrs. Rowley's eldest brother, James Hope Nelson, married Miss Isabelle Valle of St. Louis.

Though the Duke is heavily hit by taxation, he is still very wealthy. As the mansion in Grosvenor House Park Lane is for sale, he lives now at Burdon House off Berkeley Square.

He has two daughters by his first marriage, his only son dying under an operation when 4 years old.

Good Season for Lake Steamers.
By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 26.—Passenger line steamers on the Great Lakes have had one of the best seasons in their history, according to D. C. McIntyre of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Co. He predicted lower fares next season, and a drop in freight rates. His company, he said, plans to erect an $800,000 terminal at Cleveland.

CHEAPER METHOD FOUND TO GET PHOSPHORIC ACID FROM ROCK

Heat Process, Lowering Cost and Increasing Recovery, Announced by Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Discovery of a process for extracting phosphoric acid from rock by the heat method, which experts predicted would mean revolutionary changes in the fertilizer industry, was announced yesterday by the Department of Agriculture. The process has been worked out on approximately a commercial basis at the Government experiment plant at Arlington, Va.

Experiments have shown that phosphoric acid can be freed from rock by the use of fuel oil much more cheaply than by older methods, the announcement said. While the actual cost was not estimated closely, the experiments tended to show that acid could be produced at about 15 per cent of the actual value of the product, while the cheapest previous production cost was placed at about 22 per cent.

Tests were made of heating mixtures of mineral, sand and coke to smelting temperature with electricity as fuel. The process proved satisfactory, but the prohibitive cost of the current resulted in the trial of oil, which also is supplied abundantly in sections of Florida where phosphate rock deposits are being developed.

Higher recovery also is claimed for the new process. Runs at the Government plant showed about 47 per cent recovery, while the best previous record was only slightly above 16 per cent, the department declared.

MAN 100 YEARS OLD RALLIES AFTER SERIOUS OPERATION

Patient Says He Feels Better and Stronger Than at Any Time During Last 10 Years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Chaim Weiz, 100 years old, and the oldest inmate of the Home of the Sons and Daughters of Israel, in 121 East Tenth street, was sitting up in bed yesterday eating chicken and soup, although only seven days have elapsed since a major operation was performed upon him under only a local anesthetic for an infected hydrocele complicated with a paronychia and tubercular condition in the diseased area. The aged man said yesterday he felt better and stronger, and was suffering less pain than at any time during the last 10

SHE WILL BECOME A BRIDE NEXT TUESDAY

Miss Arline Watson

The operation is very unusual and surgeons say this was probably the only one of the sort performed in the United States on so old a patient. The layman will more clearly understand the nature of the operation when it is stated that it is very similar to that for hernia. Weiss had been suffering from the illness for several years, and of recent months the pain had been intense.

DEFEAT OF TWO OF K'S CITED AS REASON FOR GIVING THANKS

The Rev. Dr. W. C. Bittling Also Mentions Prohibition and Woman Suffrage.

The Rev. Dr. W. C. Bittling of the Second Baptist Church, preaching in St. John's Methodist Church yesterday, followed the custom of treating secular and political themes in the Thanksgiving sermon. He mentioned, among proper causes for thankfulness, prohibition, woman suffrage and the defeat of two of the "three Ks" in the election of Judges.

"The man who says it is as easy to get whiskey as it was before the eighteenth amendment was passed is a liar, and he knows it," Dr. Bittling said. "No Christian man has any business having a private stock in his cellar. Thank the Lord, too, that the women are voting now. When I find a man who is not glad of it, I am pretty sure that man is uncomfortable at home. Thank God for the defeat of the two Ks. It shows that the people are thinking independently. God has not aligned himself with any political party, and the salvation of the country is not dependent on any party."

BABE RUTH HELPS EDITOR TO MUNICIPAL JOB

HAVANA, Nov. 26.—Victor Munoz, sporting editor of El Mundo of Havana, who has attended all of the world series games in the last six years, won his fight for membership in the City Council here the other day by novel advertising methods. Instead of attending political rallies, Munoz went to the ball games, and on election day took Babe Ruth, the home-run king, to the polling places to help get votes. Ruth, unable to speak Spanish, made signs to the voters, who deserted other candidates and put Munoz over.

The day before election Munoz wrote a two-column account of the first game in which Ruth appeared.

Everybody read it, and under the name of the 250-pound editor-candidate appeared this:

"Candidate of great physical solvency for the position of Councilman."

CHILDREN TO ATTEND MRS. GOTT'S FUNERAL

She Was Head of Union Mission and Rescue Home for Girls; Buried Tomorrow.

Thirty-five children living at Union Mission, 2947 Morgan street, will attend the funeral tomorrow of Mrs. Mary Gott, 58 years old, head of the mission and president of the Union Mission Association, who died there of heart disease on Wednesday. Services will be held in the chapel of the mission buildings and burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Gott was identified with the mission work for a quarter of a century, and in connection with the mission conducted the Hephzibah Rescue Home for Women at 2014 Morgan street. The Union Mission Association conducted missions in about 15 other cities. Her husband, the Rev. Milton B. Gott, was in charge of the work until his death in 1913.

Horsewhipped a Slanderer.
Mrs. Gott's conduct of her work was always of an active nature and her actions sometimes were militant. In 1908, when she was Mrs. M. E. Otto, and superintendent of the Girls' Rescue Home, then at 1930 Franklin avenue, she horsewhipped a man who she said had "told stories" about the mission. At the old Dayton Street Police Court the man exhibited the result, a livid cut over his right eye, to Judge Pollard. She told the Judge she "rescued girls and preached." In answer to a question, she said, she preached "Peace on earth, good will to men." She said she was divorced from Otto in 1889. She married Gott in 1911, their romance being the result of their work together in missions.

A hospital near the Union Mission complained in 1914 of noise at revival meetings held nightly in the mission yard by Mrs. Gott. The hospital physicians said their patients were losing sleep because of the noise. For a time, it was the custom to have annual tent meetings at the mission and the worshippers sometimes became noisy in their fervor.

Helped Women to Get Work.
Following a police crusade in January, 1914, to "clean up" the segregated districts, Mrs. Gott offered the use of Hephzibah Rescue Home to the women of the districts. She offered to aid them in obtaining regular employment. "I am sure that many women in the dreaded district are not there of their own choice," she said. "Many would lead a better life if given the opportunity." At that time her fellow workers credited her with having "saved" more than 2000 fallen girls. Union Mission is a nonsectarian organization. Its headquarters at 2947 Morgan street are in an old-fashioned three-story brick residence. The Hephzibah home is in a similar old dwelling.

The Rev. H. A. Lehwald, formerly of Olney, Ill., who has been vice president and field secretary of the association, has been made president to succeed Mrs. Gott.

COOKS AND WAITERS HAVE DINNER

A Thanksgiving dinner prepared by striking cooks and served by striking waiters, at which members of the striking unions were guests, was given yesterday at the Rex Cafe, 111 North Sixth street. There were short addresses by union officials reminding the 250 guests that the eyes of organized labor were focused on their strike, which was declared when the open shop policy was adopted Oct. 1 by the Associated Hotel and Restaurant Owners' Association.

It was announced that between 700 and 800 of the strikers at a recent mass meeting at Druid's Hall, Ninth and Market streets, voted unanimously to continue the picket lines in front of hotels and restaurants involved in the walk-out and not to return to work except under union conditions and by sanction of their organizations.

"A neighbor told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment which I did, and in two days I could see it was helping. In two weeks' time she was healed and I had not used a whole cake of Cuticura Soap nor a whole box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Pat Brennan, Emmett, Michigan, Dec. 18, 1919.

$80,000 SUIT OF OIL COMPANY'S STOCKHOLDERS IS DISMISSED

Case Dropped on Plea of Abatement.
Alleged Service Had Been Obtained on Only One Defendant.
A suit filed by several stockholders of the Nemo Oil Co. of Kansas City, involving the repayment of approximately $80,000, has been dismissed by Circuit Judge Falkenhainer of a plea in abatement. The suit was filed last summer and the abatement plea, in which the right of the court's jurisdiction to try the case was attacked, was filed by the principal defendants.

The law firm of Wilfley, McIntyre,

Nardin & Nelson, representing the defendants, stated to the court that the only defendant on whom service had been obtained was J. C. Schlatter and he was "a defendant for convenience." It was asserted he really was on the side of the plaintiffs, having assigned his claim to the committee of stockholders filing the suit. It was charged by the law firm that he was a defendant by his own connivance and was merely "found" in St. Louis by an officer of the court for the purpose of being served with summons.

Although Schlatter claimed to have two residences, one at 309 North Jefferson avenue, this city, and the other in St. Louis County, at 774 Harvard avenue, near Jefferson Barracks, his legal residence at the time

the suit was filed was in the county, because he voted there in the primary last August. It was alleged. The suit was bottomed on the law that where there are several defendants and they reside in different counties, suit may be brought in any county in which any defendant lives. None of the other defendants lived in this city.

Judge Falkenhainer sustained the plea for the reason that he was of the opinion Schlatter is not a bona fide defendant and service on him is not sufficient to give the court jurisdiction. Other defendants were Dancaniger, E. O. Danciger, Abe Danciger, Joe Danciger, Charles E.

Habekost, W. J. Farley, Herman
Sonken, A. E. Durara and Robert E.
Gregg, all of Kansas City.

PAY OF TEACHERS HERE DEPENDS ON VOTERS

Defeat of Amendment No. 5 Makes Yearly Elections Necessary.

The defeat of Constitutional Amendment No. 5, one of the proposals which failed of approval in the election, Nov. 2, means that the Board of Education will have to continue to submit annually to the voters of St. Louis the proposition to increase school taxes in order that the present salaries of school teachers may be made permanent.

Had the proposed amendment been adopted it would have permitted the Board of Education to ask the people to vote on a permanent increase in taxation for school purposes, and thus would have eliminated the necessity of calling an election each year.

The percentage of taxes appropriated for the maintenance of schools was 60 cents on the $100 valuation until Nov. 11, 1919, when the taxpayers voted to increase the amount to 75 cents in order that the 2600 teachers might be given an increase in salary. The estimated addition to school revenue was $1,250,000 for the year. The increased revenue has been appropriated for the 1920-1921 budget.

Charles P. Mason, secretary-treasurer of the board, said that had the amendment been adopted the Board of Education would have asked the people to vote a substantial increase in school taxes so that the future needs of the school system could be properly financed over a long period of years.

The special school tax election last November cost $68,000, exclusive of clerical hire in the Election Board. Another such special election would cost $87,000, exclusive of clerical hire, because of the addition of 100 polling precincts in the city. It is understood that the Board of Education is planning to hold the tax election next April, in the same week as the municipal election, to save the expense of a registration, canvass and revision which usually costs about $80,000.

The defeat of the educational proposal may be due to the form in which it appeared on the ballot. The proposal, as it appeared on the ballot, read, "Amending Section 11 of Article 10, authorizing an increase of annual rates of taxation, and also permitting an increase for purpose of 'repairing' public buildings."

This wording did not show the chief intended application of the measure, which was to permit increase of school taxation. The wording of the constitutional proposals as they appear on the official ballot is provided by the Attorney-General.

THE MODEL

In the Hot Springs region of New Zealand there are cracks in the earth from which steam pours forth continually.

Here Mother Earth does the cooking, the natives merely putting their food into boxes and setting them over the cracks.

Thus does Nature herself furnish the model for the double boilers in which oatmeal is so deliciously cooked at CHILDS.

Oatmeal, served with a generous portion of pure milk or cream—our ideal breakfast food.

WITH 47 INDICTED, PRIMARY INQUIRY WILL BE RESUMED

Grand Jury to Look for More Evidence of Fraud in Election at Session This Afternoon or Later.

SIX MORE INDICTED IN TWELFTH WARD

Latest Charges Involve Men in First Precinct—Return From 28th Ward Precinct Found to Be Correct.

The grand jury, taking up routine business at the opening of the session this afternoon, planned to resume, later in the day, or as soon after today as possible, its inquiry into charges of fraud in the primary August 3. It has thus far indicted 47 men who served as judges and clerks in the primary, in eight precincts in seven wards.

The latest group of six indicted was the Twelfth Ward, First Precinct, these indictments being voted Wednesday evening, shortly before the grand jury adjourned for the Thanksgiving holiday. Indictments were returned Tuesday against the six judges and clerks of the Twelfth Ward, First Precinct of the same ward. The Twelfth is Collector Koehn's ward.

Those indicted in the Twelfth Ward, First Precinct, are Stephen R. Agnew of 521 East Expedited street and Robert Werkmeister of 2218 Water street, Republican judges; Elmer C. Fleimann, 399 East Marceau street, Republican clerk; Mike Kough, 329 Vulcan street, and E. J. Folan, 591 East Marceau street, Democratic judges; Mike J. Walsh, 3127 Water street, Democratic clerk. The polling place was at 415 East Marceau street.

"Big Vote for 'Housecleaners'." The primary returns of this precinct were largely in favor of the "housecleaners" candidates, whom Collector Koehn was backing. However, William H. Kilborn, one of the "housecleaners" candidates for Circuit Judge, whom Koehn opposed, and City Counselor Daines for the Court of Appeals, were credited with a large vote. The Republican primary vote in this precinct was as high as 166. The vote on certain offices was:

Senator Davis 137, Minnie 23, Spencer 61; Governor Hyde 131, McJannet 42; Court of Appeals Daines 102, Reynolds 62; Circuit Court, Pearcey 139, Grimm 138, Killoren 105, Shields 52, Kimmel 12, Mix 10, Osting 8, Zacharia 1, Allen 1, Mogan 3, Landauer 4; Court of Criminal Correction, Bates 129, Krueger 26, Parker 8; Sheriff, Mohrstadt 141, Schmolli 21; Public Administrator, Hampe 141, Weinbrenner 18, Slater 6; Treasurer, Dunn 138, Vitt 12, Schuler 7, Brinkmann 2, Grosby 2.

The Democratic primary vote in the precinct was 34.

28th Ward Returns Correct. Before examining the ballot box of the Twelfth Ward, First Precinct, the grand jury Wednesday afternoon examined the box of the Twenty-eighth Ward, First Precinct, and found that its contents were correctly reported in the return made by the judges and clerks. The inquiry as to this precinct was therefore terminated without prejudice to the judges and clerks. The precinct includes Westmoreland and Portland places, and the polling place was in the Usona Hotel, King's highway and Waterman avenue. The return showed normal majorities for the "housecleaners" candidates, and it is not known what caused any suspicion that the return was not correct.

The six men indicted in the Twenty-eighth Ward, First Precinct, fourth precinct, gave bond Wednesday afternoon in the sum of $500 each, with Frank J. McCarthy, proprietor of a horse-shoeing shop at 3739 Easton avenue, as surety.

To Keep Hair Wavy, Lustrous, Beautiful

The use of the hot curling iron cannot be too strongly condemned. It means death to the hair eventually. Moreover, it is entirely unnecessary. The hair can be kept beautifully wavy and curly to any extent, and in any form desired, by the simple and harmless alicurine method. Liquid alicurine should be applied to the hair before doing it up, using a clean toothbrush. In about three hours you will find that a very pretty "natural" wave and curliness has resulted, and the effect will last quite a considerable time. Liquid alicurine is really beneficial and is not sticky nor greasy. Neither does it streak. Use the alicurine cream. You need get only a few ounces from your druggist. The 15c bottle will divide the front and back hair into four to six strands and to separate each strand separately from root to tip.

Congressmen Believe Relief Measures Taken During December Session

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Greenmen from the agricultural section are coming back for a second session with the Congressmen to discuss the American farmer's present critical period.

In the price of farm products, the situation is so critical that the farmer has been hard hit. Government can do to him what it can do to the world conditions. Most of the measures that will be taken will go to the Agriculture Committee of the House and the Senate.

Certain definite proposals are expected to come out of the session. One of these is a wheat tariff which will be present House as coming from Kansas delegation. Senate Committee of that State expects the delegation together on the day of Congress to act on the terms of the measure. To have the backing of the other wheat states.

A special rule will be an early consideration as an measure and assurance of the House as coming from Kansas delegation. Senate Committee of that State expects the delegation together on the day of Congress to act on the terms of the measure. To have the backing of the other wheat states.

Members from the wheat states that the flooding of the American market with low priced wheat which forms European markets has been able for enormous losses to American farmers. A sentiment on the part of farm will be directed toward revival of the War Finance act, with a view to the governmental credits to countries to enable them to purchase American farm products.

One of the obstacles to come is the technical still existing between the States and Germany. Germany more than a million tons as well as huge shipments and cotton. Southern growers say that some management could be made the $150,000,000 which the States holds as the German property seized war.

A third definite item of members program calls holding of hearings by committees of the House and the Senate on the whole agricultural situation.

These, it is expected, on the opening day of the session, will be to tell the farmers' side of the situation.

To Discuss Financial Treasury officials will to discuss the financial situation with world economists will be asked. Much as some of the members of the States dislike Hoover, it has even been said that he is called to the farmers. It is organized that no Government can remove all the farm output, and that farmers get a substantial from the session are doomed to meet.

But some help may come many measures that will be considered. At the say the farm members, to be brought home to the present situation danger of a serious shortage of food supply, will be gained, they say, setting the farmers of the public.

FARMER HARD HIT BY SHRINKAGE OF PRODUCE PRICES

Congressmen Believe Some Relief Measures Must Be Taken During the Coming
December Session.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Congressmen from the agricultural sections are coming back for the December session with the word that "something must be done" to aid the American farmer through the present critical period of shrinkage in the price of farm products. Admittedly, the situation is bad. In the process of readjustment the farmer has been hard hit. What the Government can do to bring relief is a matter of debate. The Agricultural Committee of the House and Senate are working on the matter.

Certain definite proposals, however, are expected to command attention. One of these is a bill to reduce the high tariff duties on wheat which will be presented to the House as coming from the entire Kansas delegation. Senator Charles Curtis of that State expects to call the delegation together on the opening day of Congress to agree on the terms of the measure. It is likely to have the backing of members from the other wheat states. A special rule will be asked for its early consideration as an emergency measure and assurances have been received from several Senators that, if it passes the House, the upper body will take it up. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, the ranking member of the Finance Committee, has said that he will discuss the need of such an emergency tariff act in the opening week of Congress.

Canadian Wheat Blamed.
Members from the wheat states assert that the flooding of the American market with low priced Canadian wheat which formerly sought European markets has been responsible for enormous losses to Western American farmers. A sound movement on the part of farm members will be directed toward forcing a revival of the War Finance Corporation, with a view to the extension of governmental credits to European countries to enable them to buy American farm products.

One of the obstacles to be overcome is the technical state of war still existing between the United States and Germany. Germany needs more than a million tons of wheat as well as huge shipments of pork and cotton. Southern members interested in the relief of the cotton growers say that some credit arrangements could be made against the $750,000,000 which the United States holds as the returns from German property seized during the war.

A third definite item on the farm members program calls for the holding of hearings by joint subcommittees of the House and Senate on the whole agricultural situation.

These, it is expected, will begin on the opening day of Congress. Agricultural experts will be called in to tell the farmers' side of the story. To Discuss Financial Phase.
Treasury officials will be invited to discuss the financial phases. Men familiar with world economic conditions will be asked for advice. Much as some of the members from the farming States dislike Herbert Hoover, it has even been suggested that he be called to outline any suggestions he may have for relief to the farmers. It is frankly recognized that no Government fiat can remove all the farmers' difficulties, and that farmers who expect a cure-all from the coming session are doomed to disappointment.

But some help may come from the many measures that will be put up for consideration. At the very least, say the farm members, the fact will be brought home to city folks that in the present situation there is danger of a serious shortage in the nation's food supply. Something will be gained, they say, merely by getting the farmers' case before the public.

CIGAR STORE HELD UP
3D TIME IN 3 YEARS

Two Men Force Clerk at Sixth and Locust to Open Safe and Escape in Auto With $260.

William Berner of 3258 St. Louis avenue, manager of a Kroger grocery at Blair and Montgomery street, has just transferred $109 from a safe which he had carried home to the cash register in the store, after opening the place for the day at 7 o'clock this morning, when two men entered the store and called for a pound of butter.

Berner went to the refrigerator and got the butter and was about to wrap the package when the men drew revolvers and ordered him to put up his hands. One of the robbers then went behind the counter and took the money from the cash register. As the robbers ran west on Montgomery street Berner telephoned for policemen, but before their arrival the robbers had disappeared from the neighborhood.

Cigar Store Robbed.
 The United Cigar Co's store at Sixth and Locust streets was held up at 10:15 o'clock last night for the third time within a year. Two men who had stepped from an automobile asked for cigars and the clerk, Mack Coppersmith, 729 South Third street, said that when he turned to wait upon them they produced revolvers and ordered him to put up his hands. He was then told to open the safe, and when he replied that he did not know the combination, the robbers threatened to kill him. He opened the safe and they took $260 and drove west on Locust street.

 Mrs. Elvin Brown, 6028A Kingsbury boulevard, answering a ring at her front doorbell at 9 p. m., found a man on the porch and another stranger on the porch of the home of Howard Maffray at 6027 Kingsbury. Knowing the Maffray family was away from home, she called Maffray by telephone and he rushed home to find the front window of his home had been forced but nothing taken.

Other Robberies Reported.
 Antonio Lederer, 315 Russell avenue, was held up by a negro at Eleventh and Carr streets yesterday morning and robbed of his watch, knife and $18. William E. James Maguire, 4927 Botanical avenue, was robbed of $33 by a negro in a hallway at 3531 Market street at 7 p. m. The negro flourished a knife.

ABILITY TO READ NEWSPAPERS PART OF NEW ENGLISH PROGRAM

President of National Council of Teachers Discusses New Aims of Instruction.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Teaching of the ability to read the daily and weekly newspaper with economy and discrimination was outlined as a part of the new English program of the National Council of Teachers of English by James F. Hosc of Chicago, president of the council, here today. Hosc discussed new aims in English teaching while making the annual presidential address to the council's convention.

"The newspaper is the most powerful factor in forming opinion in a country that is governed by public opinion," Hosc said. "To have good newspapers we must, however, have an educated clientele. Like everything else, newspapers are as good as their readers demand. All journalists look forward to the possibility of improvement in the quality of their papers as their reading public responds to better and more digested treatment of current events."

Summarizing tasks before the English teachers of the nation, Hosc said: "All pupils leaving the American high school should exhibit decent competency in the use of the vernacular for the purposes of every-day life."
"English classes should so far cultivate sensitiveness to poetry, fiction and plays that these sources of enjoyment are open to all. Here the schools have often gone astray by attempting to develop critics rather than readers and theater goers."

MEDALS FOR AMERICAN WOMEN

French Academy Awards for Mrs. Edith Wharton and Others.
PARIS, Nov. 26.—Former President Poincaré at the annual meeting of the French Academy yesterday awarded gold medals, the Montyon Prize for Worthy Deeds, to Mrs. Edith Wharton, the American writer, vice president of the American Hospital for Refugees and Mrs. Royall

Tyler, for founding and maintaining in France American homes for convalescent allied soldiers before America entered the war.
"The cost of the homes was nearly 10,000,000 francs and many personal hardships and sacrifices," M. Poincaré said. "France does not forget the magnificent services rendered her by America even before the latter had forsaken its neutrality." Miss Alice Getty and Mrs. Maria L. Card of Pittsburgh received silver medals.

REPORT FILED OF
PRIMARY EXPENSES
OF L. C. DYER

Six Republican Committeemen Got $100 Each for Work in Congressman's Behalf, Report Shows.

Six Republican City Committeemen, including Director of Safety James N. McKelvey, were paid $100 each for work in the primary for the renomination of Congressman L. C. Dyer, and some of them with McKelvey again included, received $200 each for distribution among the precinct workers for the general election, as shown in a statement of campaign expenses filed with the recorder today by the treasurer of the Twelfth Congressional District Campaign Committee.

The committeemen named as receiving $100 each were, besides McKelvey, Frank M. Slater of the Seventeenth Ward, also a candidate for the nomination for Public Administrator; Anthony Schuler of the Sixth, also candidate for the nomination for city treasurer; Gabriel Roth of the Fifth, W. H. Hubels of the Seventh, Dr. O. H. Pope of the Fifteenth, Alderman Adam C. Reis of the Sixth Ward also got $100.

More in Election.
All that was for the primary. Then came the election, and the amount was increased. This time McKelvey, Schuler, Roth, Hubels and Joseph Schroeder, who had succeeded Dr. Pope, got $200 each, and Slater got $250. This was for distribution among the precinct workers. Slater's ward had a large percentage of negro voters, and there was considerable opposition to Dyer among the negroes.

The total amount collected by the committee, the statement says, was $4411, of which Congressman Dyer himself gave $350. The total expenditures were $4409.50, which included the $1950 the committeemen got.

The statement of election expenses filed by Seiden P. Spencer, successful Republican candidate, lists his total expenses at $4487. One of the items listed is $1500 to Louis P. Aloe, president of the Board of Aldermen, "for publicity."

Peter Barrett Spent $157.
A personal statement of expenses filed by Jesse W. Barrett, successful Republican candidate for Attorney General of Missouri, showed that he spent $157.75, of which $100 went to the State Committee, and a statement which the Citizens' Committee which campaigned for him showed expenses of $157. Most of the contributions were from other lawyers.

The statement of Howard Siders, elected Circuit Attorney, showed expenditures of $1270.50.

Clifford B. Allen, treasurer of a committee that sought the passage of constitutional amendments increasing the number of Judges in the Supreme Court and St. Louis Court of Appeals, filed a statement of expenditures totaling $882.02.

POSTAL MONEY ORDER RULING
Those Payable in Italy Should Be Expressed in Dollars and Cents.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Postmasters at international offices are directed in an order issued today by Postmaster-General Burleson, and effective Dec. 15, to express the amount of postal money orders drawn for payment in Italy in dollars and cents.
"This action, which was taken at the request of the Italian Postal Administration," said a Postoffice Department announcement, "assures to remitters of orders in this country that the payees will receive the largest possible amount in Italy, as the postal authorities of that country agree to pay the orders at the market rate on the date that the descriptive lists of the orders are received at the exchange office in Turin, and is expected to be very popular with the patrons of the postal service who desire to send money to Italy because of the certainty of the payment of a much larger amount in Italian money than is possible under the plan of a fixed rate of conversion in use heretofore."

Easy to Play

You've heard of the Gulbransen. Everybody knows the little Baby at the Pedals. But perhaps you don't know the Baby is something more than a trade mark. It is the picture of an incident that has happened in thousands of homes—a suggestion of the outstanding quality of the Gulbransen—"Easy to Play."

The moment your feet touch the pedals of this amazing instrument you realize you are playing a different sort of player-piano from any you ever played before. It just gets into sympathy with you, helps you, inspires you to play like a true musician. You do not have to pump hard or pedal fast. Gulbransen exquisite "pedal-touch" is so delightfully restful, yet you can "just make this piano talk," it is so responsive.

During the colder months of Mittens' winter and intense cold, you who would keep your skin smooth, white and velvety, must use a skin cream that is well-coined wax. Nothing else will so effectively protect or remove a chapped, roughened or discolored surface. By actually absorbing the weather-beaten outer layer of the skin, the cream keeps it in condition, and even the beauty of its appearance seems more pronounced. If your skin be coarse, highly, simply, or even if it be of the most delicate type, it still is one course of ordinary use, and it will be had at any drugstore. It will completely transform the most unbecoming skin into a smooth, white, and radiant one. The wax is actually like cold cream, and it is the best of all skin creams.

If weather age of poor health has marked your face with wrinkles, there is no need to despair. You can have every line by using a harmless refreshing cream, which will remove the entire course of powdered beauty in a matter of a few minutes. It will give you smoother skin, the more youthful appearance, even after an application, will

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES RED BLOOD

Sold by Druggists in Liquid and Tablet Form—Both the Same in Medicinal Quality.

When your child loses color, acts listless, talks without spirit, and does not play like other children, act quickly.

If the condition is not a deep-seated disease but merely due to poor blood, give Pepto-Mangan. "Gude's" Pepto-Mangan is just the tonic for pale, listless children whose blood needs rebuilding. It is a pleasant-tasting, simple combination of exactly the ingredients that increase and enrich the blood.

Beneficial results show almost at once in brighter eyes, blooming cheeks, and spirits; step, and the whole system becomes vigorous.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." Ask your druggist for "Gude's," and let him name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.

ENGLISH PLAYWRIGHT A MOVIE ENTHUSIAST

Offers Dramatists Opportunities Denied by Stage, Henry Arthur Jones Says.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—"You Americans are very generous. You accept H. G. Wells as a great political thinker, George Bernard Shaw as a great dramatist, and you are very kind to me."

It was Henry Arthur Jones, the English dramatist, speaking, and as he puffed on a long, crooked-stem pipe he looked out of the corner of his eye to see just how his remark was "taking."

The fact is Jones is most interested at the moment in the forthcoming production here by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation of a stage play and a photoplay which he brought with him, all typed out in book form and, as he says, "not needing a single crossing of a 't'."

First Turn to Screen Work. With 70 produced plays to his credit, including among the more notable "The Liars," "The Silver King," "The Hypocrites," "Mrs. Lane's Defense" and "Check of the Sale," Jones now is turning his attention seriously for the moment—and for the moment only—to the screen field. He brought the play, which first will be done for the stage and later for the screen, and will go to the studios and assist in the preliminary preparation for the work to be done upon it. He is confident the story will make its mark as a picture, saying only it "is somewhat spectacular, but filled with human interest."

"The motion picture industry," he says, "is only in its babyhood. It has almost ductile and facile technique; a boundless comprehension of suggestion and insinuation and an equally great power of vivid, startling contrast. It has an infinite variety of action and world-wide freedom of movement. In all these respects the film offers to dramatists vast opportunities which are denied by the spoken stage. It also has a greater command and a truer presentation of landscape than the drama. It may offer a refuge to the imaginative dramatist, now almost banished from our stage."

Jones said that reckoning from Shakespeare downward, imagination had been practically shut out of the speaking stage, with its pert vulgarity and its dictionary of slang. "The film welcomes and invites, romance and imagination," he said. "True, these two factors will be deeded speech, but how rarely have they been allowed to make themselves heard on the regular stage." He does not believe, however, that the film play ever will supersede the spoken drama.

"Only words are immortal," he says. "A play has no permanent value or influence unless, in addition to winning approved success in the theater, it also takes its place in the country's literature."

It is the "volume, variety and impetus of its action (the film play)—that is, the very essence of drama—in its swift, vivid, multiple transformation, its startling command of contrast, its power of concentration upon valuable minutiae, its capacity for insinuation and flashing suggestion," Mr. Jones believes the motion picture play surpasses the stage work.

The dramatist will remain in New York several weeks.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Unit to Stop Crime.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Glad to see some concerted action taken to stop the crime wave in St. Louis and make it a safe place in which to live.

When the activities of the criminals extend from the humblest to the finest homes in the city, when innocent mothers of infant children are murdered in cold blood while shopping in neighborhood stores, is it not time for the public to arouse itself?

There is no agency that can do more good in this respect than the public press, so this communication is being sent to all the daily papers in St. Louis in the hope that something may be done to stop the orgy of crime that has fastened itself here.

Let me suggest, among other things, the following:

First—A quiet conference of all the editors to map out plans.

Second—Simultaneous announcement in all the press of a war on criminals and criminal influences.

Third—Call a citywide mass meeting, have every element represented, to help arouse the public and force proper action.

Fourth—Have committees from this conference call meetings of court and other officers charged with administering and enforcing the law. Pledge to them the full support of press and public in all efforts to enforce the law, and promise them full publicity and unsparring criticism for failure to do so.

Fifth—Wage, through police and the courts, relentless warfare against carrying concealed weapons, securing from public officials pledges that they will strive for maximum punishment of offenders to those found guilty, and that no paroles will be granted in such cases. If the police will regularly and continuously search known public characters, and the courts send the guilty ones to the Jefferson City Penitentiary, the practice of carrying concealed weapons will soon be reduced to a minimum, and with it a relative reduction in crime.

Sixth—Turn a continuous light on the criminal policy of the courts. Much good is accomplished through a proper paroleing system, and meritorious parolees should be publicly encouraged and commended. But improper and reckless paroleing of confirmed criminals should be resolutely denounced, and the officials responsible for it held up to public scorn. One repeatedly hears the statement made that it does little good to convict criminals here, for they will be paroled; but the public can stop this practice as the lessons of the recent election will not be soon forgotten.

If the present laws are not sufficient to remove from office any public official who fails to do his duty, see that the coming Legislature remedies this defect. If the press will keep up the agitation, our officials will soon drive out the great body of our criminal element. The average man wants to do the right thing, and give the proper encouragement and support, will do so.

Governor-elect Hyde, who will soon come into office, wants to make good, and alleged citizens will wish him well. Let the press and public assure him of their hearty support in every effort to clean up the criminal element, but let him understand he will be held responsible for any failure to do so. The public will be little interested as to which of the officials he recognizes in his appointments, but it will be interested in his seeing that the law is enforced, and that the citizen is given protection to both his life and his property.

CITIZEN.

Sand Blast Nuisance.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I got an awful sand on Sunday afternoon, passing a building which was being cleaned by the sand-blast method. A high wind carried the sand and dirt from the building for blocks down the street. No one could escape it. If this method is to be permitted, the work should be stopped during a high wind. Why cannot the users of these machines have them changed so that the sand will be sucked back into the tank instead of blown all over the neighborhood? Nearby stores and restaurants have to keep doors and windows shut at such times. I am surprised that the proprietors or managers stand it. I suffered all the rest of the day from this nuisance.

PEDESTRIAN.

A Reminder.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Just a word to the people of Missouri in regard to the soldiers' bonus bill. How is it that a State that has passed all such bills as Red Cross, Liberty Bonds, etc., cannot see its way clear to pass a bill allowing the soldiers who went from this State to fight and protect this country a bonus? There are now 14 states that have passed bonus bills, while Missouri, the Show Me State, falls down on the job. Haven't the soldiers who left from this State been as true as those who left from other states? And are they not entitled to a bonus as much as they? We left our jobs, we fought to save them. We return to find them in our places who will not give us their jobs. Should we have stayed at home to protect them? We have no work. We have no money. We need and are entitled to the bonus. We don't want charity. We want justice.

A SOLDIER.

ANARCHY IN IRELAND.

The Irish home-rule bill which passed the British House of Commons, is generally agreed, was "dead" before its adoption. It is now a mere gesture of the British Parliament in the direction of an Irish settlement. There is talk of amendments by the Lords, but it is doubtful if any amendments can galvanize the scheme into life.

Meanwhile the Irish rebellion is fought by assassination and British repression is conducted by reprisals. The Sinn Feiners murder the British constabulary and soldiers and the British soldiers burn towns and shoot men, women and children indiscriminately. Assassination is not organized rebellion which can obtain recognition and assistance anywhere in the civilized world.

On the other hand, reprisals by soldiers and constabulary is the negation of government. It is official murder and devastation. When a Government turns its armed forces loose to take revenge upon innocent people for the acts of individual rebels, it is guilty of something worse than mere brutal and bloody tyranny. It abandons even the forms of law under which the guilty would be brought to punishment and the innocent, with their property, protected. This would be government under law, but government by revenge through armed forces is a confession of failure. It puts Ireland in the condition of Belgium under German conquest when reprisal by shooting citizens and burning towns was the order of the day.

The result in Ireland is anarchy—lawless acts of rebellious Sinn Feiners, met by lawless acts of Britain's armed forces.

As German tyranny in Belgium shocked the moral sense of the world, so British tyranny is shocking the moral sense of the world.

The responsibility rests primarily on the Government of Great Britain, which has denied to the Irish the local self-government which an overwhelming majority of the people have demanded and which has been promised them for years. The Irish people have been deceived and betrayed. We do not justify murder as a means of getting justice and liberty, but we recognize their just cause for resentment and rebellion.

The Irish situation is a horrible discredit and reproach to the conscience and capacity of Great Britain. Claiming the right and power to rule democratically millions of people in distant parts of the world, it has made a terrible failure at home. This failure is gravely serious. By reason of it Great Britain is forfeiting the esteem and good will of civilized peoples. The British people should recognize the danger of the situation at this time, when turmoil and lawlessness contributes to the flame that threatens civilization. It menaces the cause of peace and democracy everywhere.

The United States exported 465,000,000 gallons of gasoline during the first nine months of 1920, or more than twice as much as in the same period last year. If we are determined to exhaust our oil supply, our present policy is the way to do it.

VENIZELOS.

One European statesman who emerged from the war with celebrity not only unimpaired but enlarged and more firmly established is Venizelos.

The world's opinion of him as the most able Grecian since the end of the classical period in the peninsula is shared by those who have lately come into intimate contact with him. He made a profound impression on his associates at the peace conference.

He obtained for Greece, Thrace, a large part of the Aegean Islands, Smyrna and much surrounding territory in Asia Minor. This is not to be classified as a mere land-grabbing achievement under the arbitrary power of conquest. It was a restoration of important areas in Greece's irredenta, comparable to the restoration of lands rightfully belonging to Italy.

We may have little doubt that but for one cause Constantinople also would by this time have been turned over to Greece. Such a disposition would encounter fewer objections than any other. What to do with it is still a problem the allies have not solved. To make the dream of Greeks the world over a reality by extending their territory to Constantinople might even be looked on as a welcome relief. The great obstacle is the distrust and resentment aroused by the policies of ex-King Constantine during the early months of the war.

So, in recent Greek history, we have on the one hand the substantial as well as brilliant Venizelos who some years ago was an important agent in uniting Crete to the mainland and who later united to it many other islands and cities, the creator of a real greatness for modern Greece.

On the other hand, we have the wrong-headed Constantine, thoroughly permeated with Hohenzollernism, held in strict subjection by his wife, and the treachery toward Serbia, plotter for bringing Greece under the domination of Prussianism and the obstacle to Constantinople's acquisition.

That war weariness, local jealousies and other influences might cause a temporary reaction from Venizelos is understandable. But a turning back to the mediocre, hen-pecked Constantine in the referendum of Dec. 5 would be incomprehensible. Would the allies permit advantages tentatively won by Venizelos' labors to become agencies for expanding the marplot opportunities of the obnoxious Constantine?

A return for Constantine and wife would be hailed

SPOILS OF SACRED TRUSTS?

The German note to the League of Nations Assembly protesting that it no longer considers itself bound by the clause of the Versailles treaty relating to the surrender of her former colonies, because the mandates have not been distributed in good faith, may accomplish little toward the return of the colonies to Germany, but it is not without usefulness in tending to keep the subject of mandates in public view.

It will be recalled that the treaty enunciated as a guiding principle in dealing with these spoils of war that "the well-being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization." Yet the distribution of these territories has been made largely in conformity with the provisions of the secret treaties, the existence of which was not disclosed to the United States until the President reached Paris. Although these territories have passed to the respective claimants, ostensibly as mandates, no adequate system of rights and duties has yet been promulgated for the guidance of their administration.

To what extent the new possessors are treating the former German colonies as acquired by indefensible title, we do not know, but if they are all patterning their conduct after the British in East Africa it becomes questionable whether the Allied Powers have not themselves scrapped this clause of the treaty.

We read in the issues of Oct. 29 and of Nov. 5 of the Manchester Guardian, for example, that the British Government is proposing the introduction of forced labor for the development of the former German East African possessions. The land is to be let with this privilege, the natives being subject to forced labor at a fixed wage during two months out of the 12. They will be wanted, naturally, during the two months when they ought to be in their own fields.

The natives appear to have constituted something of a problem since the war by reason of their unwillingness to labor for their white fellow subjects. And the Manchester Guardian declares the reason to be that during the war the natives were overworked, underpaid or not paid at all, and frequently scandalously treated. It points out further that when employers cannot get men to work who are able to work, the proper way to deal with them is not to resort to force, but to alter conditions so that the men will be attracted. And it adds:

Under any system of forced labor such conditions are certain to remain bad and to grow worse. And when is it to cease? An industry, in this case, a whole social system, is to be built upon compulsion. Every month that such compulsion lasts makes it harder to do without it. The only sure foundation economically, quite apart from questions of morals and Christianity, is one of unforced labor by men who freely accept the wages and conditions of employment.

It is a queer resort of the British, in view of the vociferous condemnation of Germany's treatment of the same natives during the war. It is equally repugnant to the general policies applied by Great Britain in the past to subject peoples.

Aside from all consideration of the German note, the mandate situation is not satisfactory, nor does it conform to the ethical sentiments of the people of the United States who are familiar with the exploiting habits of some of the European colonial Powers. The United States can do much to restore confidence in the administration of these "sacred trusts," however, once it takes its place in the League of Nations. For it is timely to point out that the German colonies and dependencies were renounced "in favor of the allied and associated Powers," by which the United States became possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest, which she has never surrendered and cannot surrender, save by an act of Congress. This right has not yet been asserted by the United States, but it exists; and when the time comes it can be used to safeguard the bona fides of the mandate clauses.

The secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation says there is a surplus of milk and the price ought to be lower. He should tell this to St. Louis dairymen—tell it with bricks.

AN EVENTFUL AIR RACE.

The air race for the Pulitzer trophy around a triangular section of Long Island yesterday was a great success in every respect. While the speed record failed to exceed that of the Gordon Bennett cup winner this year it was highly creditable under the conditions. So large a number of people as had gathered within and around the triangle has never before witnessed an airplane race practically from start to finish, with a veritable cloud of contestants under continuous observation.

It is a matter of patriotic pride that the Verville army racer, which won the prize, is of American construction throughout, driven by the 600-horsepower Packard motor, which is a variation of the Liberty motor of American war development, and piloted by Capt. C. C. Mosely of the United States army. But even better to be noted is the fact that with so many entrants crowding the racing course, and all under great speed, no serious accidents marred the event, which is broad testimony that under skilled and experienced pilotage navigation of the air has been brought within the bounds of special danger.

The army and the navy have here demonstrated their capacity in this branch of military service. The public interest is proved to be great. Is congressional interest in the same direction to continue lagging?

BRITISH RULE OF ISLAM.

ALBERT KINROSS in Atlantic Monthly.

THERE are some 100,000,000 Moslems within the British empire. Generally speaking, they are among the most loyal and contented of subjects. We respect their religion and their code of law—the two are inextricably combined; they have been spared or reclaimed from the despotisms, the futile wars, massacres, fanatical and savagery which are the constant and ever-changing marks of the self-governed peoples of Islam and it is with the European of an even earlier age than that one may best compare our Moslem fellow citizens. Therefore the words democracy, parliamentary government, and constitutionalism have no real meaning to the ordinary Mohammedan, who regards all government as something outside himself, wherein he has no voice. It is the business of a Government to govern, and it is his business to be governed. That is his way of looking at it. He does not want to vote or waste his time attending meetings; he recognizes that Allah has made certain men, whom he has chosen to be masters, and myriads of other men whose destiny it is to work at their handicraft or to cultivate the soil. The whole thing rests with Allah. If he is ruled by Christians, he does not much mind; and if he is ruled by Moslems, so much the better. He is not a political animal; he has other excitements, spiritual and sensual, which, in his opinion, we Occidentals undervalue. He likes his rulers to be just, and, when their injustice becomes unendurable, he rises in his wrath. If he is strong enough, and always there is a good deal in the shape of a priest or a political agitator, let us say, can usually convince him of anything, and therefore his own rulers have invariably lopped off the heads of such orators.

Jolly Well True, Eh, What?

From successful business men who flirt with waitresses, from women whose hose are not on straight, from acquaintances who give one a hard slap on the back as a sign of recognition, from anybody who says "I'll say," from people who don't remember a good joke, from men who talk about their good jobs, then try to borrow a "five," from employed young women who have a "date" every evening, from local girls who laugh so East St. Louis can hear them—good Lord, deliver us. ALELL.

Fannell Hall must have been very much surprised by what our Jamie Reed said there last night about the League of Nations. If we have not grown since Fannell Hall echoed the oratory of the founders of the republic, then the hall itself was in vain. You can imagine how comforting that thought must have been to it last night.

Were I to call you up and say

And I'd leave off the sound of a
And call it calf—would you Give me the merry laugh?

I'll say you would!

I might suggest some carabet

That would sound like cabaret
Would you answer me and say
"Thank you, no?" Oh, yes, my pet,

BOND AMENDMENT ADOPTED HELD TO APPLY TO ST. LOUIS

City's Limit of Bonded Indebtedness Would Be Increased to $64,000,000 Aside From Outstanding Issues.

City Counselor Daues today expressed the opinion that Amendment No. 1 to the State Constitution, which was adopted in the election Nov. 2, the result being officially certified Tuesday, applies to the city of St. Louis. It has been generally spoken of as a Kansas City measure, and a new article in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch first called attention to the probability that it applied to this city also.

The amendment increases the limit of bonded indebtedness for cities of more than 75,000 population from 10 per cent of the assessed valuation to 15 per cent. For St. Louis, this means that the city can issue nearly $4,000,000 of bonds for general purposes, in addition to outstanding issues. The old limitation left a margin of less than $2,000,000.

Purchase of Utilities.
The amendment also authorizes cities of more than 75,000 population to issue bonds for the construction or purchase of public utilities, up to 20 per cent of the assessed valuation of such cities, and independent of bond issues for general purposes. On the basis of the present St. Louis assessment, this would mean that this city could issue bonds up to $15,000,000 for the purchase of utilities. This sum, it is believed, would much more than suffice to buy the United Railways, Union Electric and Laclede Gas properties.

To authorize a bond issue for general purposes, a two-thirds vote of the general or special election is required, as under the old constitutional provision. To authorize a bond issue for the construction or purchase of public utilities, a four-fifths vote, or somewhat less than two-thirds, is required.

Would Pay Bonds With Earnings.
The amendment provides that the interest and principal of the public utilities bonds shall be paid "out of the earnings or sale of the utilities plant or system for the acquisition of which said issue was made; but the city may thereafter provide, by ordinance, for the payment in any year of any part of the interest or principal of said bonds due in that year, out of the general revenue of that year raised by general taxation."

It is also provided that the city may mortgage the utility, its additions or extensions to secure the payment of the bonds and that, in default of such payment the bondholders may apply for the appointment of a receiver. The city shall have a year to meet the obligation and recover the property.

The amendment takes the place of section 12 of Article X of the State Constitution. The old section contained a provision limiting it to cities of not more than 300,000 population, and this admitted Kansas City and excluded St. Louis, but the new section strikes out the old section, and provides expressly that its terms shall apply to cities of 75,000 and over. Counselor Daues said, after a careful examination of the amendment and the Constitution, that he could find no reason for thinking that it would not apply to St. Louis.

No Campaign for Amendment.
There has been no organized campaign in behalf of the amendment here, and there has been no recent agitation for public ownership of utilities on a large scale. It is believed that the new amendment, opening the possibility of such ownership, may cause such a movement to be started. Mayor Kiel said, in speaking of the matter, that it was of great importance, but that there was not time, in the remaining part of his administration, ending next April, to undertake any measures under the new provision. Director Hooke of the Department of Public Utilities also said he considered the new provision of great importance. His department has been working in the direction of municipal control of electric street lighting facilities.

A MORE emphatic example of reliability than R-B cigars can hardly be found. Through all the years of their national popularity, they have staunchly clung to the original quality, to the imported Sumatra wrapper, full-flavored, long-leaf filler. The R-B square deal policy impresses more smokers every day with its reliable sincerity and has held the R-B Londres price to 8 cents.

CAMP FUNSTON, Kan., Nov. 26.

Plans for tearing down a considerable number of the buildings here and making the remainder permanent structures, are being made by

MAN SENT TO JAIL ON HIS SECOND DRY ACT CONVICTION

First Case Before Judge Faris
Where Accused Had Been Punished Before for Like Offense.

3 MONTHS' SENTENCE
AND FINE OF $250

Steve Vitale Pleaded Guilty
on Oct. 25 to Having Wine in Possession and Was Fined $250.

The first case in which punishment has been assessed in St. Louis for a second violation of the Federal prohibition law was disposed of today in the United States District Court, when Steve Vitale, 1118 North Eighth street, a grocer, pleaded guilty to selling whiskey to a prohibition enforcement agent and of having in his possession 30 gallons of wine. On Oct. 25 Vitale was fined $250 on a charge of having in his possession a quantity of wine and whiskey. Today he was sentenced to three months in jail and ordered to pay a fine of $250.

Counsel representing Vitale asked for leniency, claiming that when he pleaded guilty the first time he was under the impression that the charge included the second offense.

Special Assistant Attorney-General Higgs informed the court that he had notified another attorney representing Vitale that at the time Vitale entered his first plea there was another charge involving a second offense pending. Higgs also called attention to the fact that he had dismissed a charge against Vitale's wife when the first case was disposed of. Judge Faris, in sentencing Vitale today, said that he was extending leniency to the defendant on his representation of ignorance. He added that the prohibition law must be complied with in every respect.

AWAITING CAR AT 4:30 A. M.

Physician Who Made Remark About Party in Restaurant Says He and Companions Were Followed.

Dr. Albert Kring, 35 years old, of 4553 South Broadway, was seriously injured, and Robert Gehrer, 31, of 2715 Wyandotte street, a painter who was with the doctor, was slightly hurt at 4:30 a. m. yesterday, when they were knocked down by four men who stepped from an automobile and attacked them while they were waiting for a street car at Broadway and Pine street.

Dr. Kring was taken to the city hospital, where physicians said his skull was fractured. Gehrer suffered scalp wounds and bruises. They told the police they believed the men were the same four they had noticed in a restaurant at 213 North Seventh street a short time before the assault. They occupied a table adjoining the one where the doctor and Gehrer were eating. "They were boisterous," they said, and the doctor had remarked audibly about the loud talking of the men. The remark, they said, was apparently overheard by the men, who followed them from the restaurant.

IT'S not a bit of trouble to have plenty of good things to eat on hand all the time, when you use Calumet Baking Powder.

It never allows baking trouble. You don't "dread" to bake.
There is nothing to worry about—and that really is the hardest part of it.

Mix up a batch of biscuits—or the finest kind of cake—it's all the same. There is never but one result—the sweetest and most palatable of foods.

There is not as much worry over baking costs either. Because Calumet costs less—when you buy it—the price is moderate.

CALUMET
BAKING POWDER

It costs you less when you use it—because you don't use as much of it—it has more than the ordinary leavening strength.

You get more out of the flour, sugar, eggs, shortening, etc., because there are no failures—no waste.

The most critical of baking powder judges gave it highest awards. World's Pure Food Expon-

the world.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

BRITISH CHURCH DIGNITARIES FIND SALARIES TOO SMALL

Bishops Unable to Maintain Large Establishments on Pay Ranging
From $10,000 to $50,000.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—High digni-taries of the English church are finding difficulty in making their official stipends meet the high cost of living.

Dr. Winnington Ingram, the Bishop of London, has leased his town mansion in St. James Square, and announces that he is quite prepared to give up Fulham Palace, his magnificent official residence. The Bishop's stipend is $50,000 a year. He does not spend $5000 a year on himself, yet he is often heard to say that he is "worse off now than when he was a curate."

The Archbishop of York and Primate of England, Cosmo Gordon Lang, declares that it is quite impossible for him to maintain his home, Bishopthorpe Palace, and entertain his clergy adequately, on his official income of $45,000 a year, although he is a bachelor, says "the Evening Standard."

The Bishop of Winchester, with $35,000 annual income, is in a similar plight. He has to maintain Farnham Castle, the largest Bishop's palace in this country, with a deer park which is one of the sights of England.

The Bishop of Lichfield definitely announces that he is about to change his palace for a small house. He states that, although the yearly income of his see is $21,000, the necessary official charges leave him only $5000 for the upkeep of the palace, which really requires $10,000 a year.

The Bishop of Worcester, who draws $19,500, also is considering the advisability of leaving his vast palace, Harbottle Castle, to take a more modest dwelling.

TWO COUNTIES TO UNITE IN CONDUCTING MURDER TRIAL

Case of Two Men Charged With Killing Two West Frankfort (Ill.)
Youths to Be Heard Next Month.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BENTON, Ill., Nov. 26.—Authorities of Williamson and Franklin counties will unite in the prosecution of Frank Blanco and Setino de Santis, charged with killing Tony Hemphill and Amel Calcaterra, two West Frankfort youths, near Royalton, Aug. 2 last, and then throwing their bodies in a shallow grave in a creek bed near the county line. A mob ruled West Frankfort for several days, during which several companies of State militia were rushed into the city, one foreigner, Louis Cararra, was killed, several others injured and much property destroyed as the result of the crime.

Judge D. T. Hartwell of Marion has appointed the law firm of Henson & Kershale of Johnston City, to defend Blanco and De Santis, while State's Attorney D. L. Duty of Williamson County will be assisted by State's Attorney Roy C. Martin of Franklin County. The Board of Su-perisors of Williamson County has purchased riot guns which will be conspicuous during the trial and every precaution will be taken that a further outbreak will not occur.
Hemphill and Calcaterra left West Frankfort on the fatal day for Royalton in company with De Santis, that being the last seen of them until their bodies were found in shallow-covered graves by Deputy Sheriff Frank Bowling while he was searching for illicit stills reported to be hidden in the woods. De Santis, not giving satisfactory answers regarding the whereabouts of the boys upon his return to West Frankfort, was arrested and a mob formed. De Santis was hurried to the Marion jail, later that night to Harrisburg and then to Belleville. Later Blanco was reported at Belleville. In con-

Tools a Workman Respects

The man who makes his living with his hands, has a real respect for his tools.
Upon them depends his reputation as a skilled workman.

Keen Kutter tools are a real joy to the man who respects his tools.

Just to hold a Keen Kutter drawing knife in one's two hands, proves that the man who made it knows what perfect balance and design mean to the man who uses tools.

To see how it holds its edge under daily use, adds to the workman's respect for it.

The blade of a Keen Kutter drawing knife, unlike all others, is made of one piece of steel. It is so treated that its texture is wonderfully fine, and tempered to exactly the right degree to retain its edge without being brittle.

(That is the Keen Kutter standard.)

ARCHBISHOP DEPLORES PRESENT CONDITIONS

Says They Are Like Those in France After the French Revolution.

Archbishop Glennon, speaking yesterday at the seven-fiftieth anniversary observance of the St. Louis chapter of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, in the Old Cathedral, compared world conditions with those of the time Antonio Frederic Ozanam, who founded the St. Vincent de Paul Society in Paris in 1833.

"When Frederic Ozanam founded this society," the Archbishop said, "he did it in response to the impudencies of the age, brought on by the French revolution. We are in about the same condition today that France was then. What with your commercialism, your materialism, your immorality, we are speeding toward catastrophe. Today we are where they were, and it is doubtful if we are as well placed. The very foundations of morality are attacked. This war has not been a war between this nation and another nation, but a war against the foundations of society."

"This Christian civilization has gone through a process similar to the fate of the man who was driven down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among robbers. This Christian civilization of ours is still in the hands of robbers—statisticians, diplomats, statesmen, lords, kings and such like. They promise to restore the humanity that they have destroyed by their own supreme power; they are essaying the task without God. We read of their doings and wait with alternating hope and fear for the results. So far, they have made a mess of their work. It is true, during the war—and not, perhaps, for the highest and holiest purposes—they introduced the religious element, spurring the soldiers along to braver deeds by setting up the flaming symbol of the cross. After the war the only place left for the cross of Christ was on the graves of those who fell."

"After your money changers and your politicians have had their say, let us go in the sacred name of brotherhood, the brotherhood of Christ, and in that equally sacred name of democracy, which is impossible unless there be charity between men and women, and let us bring together these parts that remain."

"We need men with willingness to sacrifice and render personal help—not paid help, not an agency, but the personal help of man to man, helping the weak and lowly and bringing them back to hope and health and strength. I do not say that I am not pleased with modern methods. I only say that these modern methods count for little in themselves unless there be a soul behind them, such as that of St. Vincent de Paul."

The audience filled the church. The Very Rev. M. S. Ryan, president of Kenrick Seminary, was celebrant of the mass. The members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, headed by Congressman William L. Trego, diocesan president, occupied the central pews.

MAID ADMITS $1290 THEFT

Furs and dresses valued at $1290 were taken from the home of Richard Fox, Harlan Court Apartments, 5455 Delmar boulevard, while the family was away from home yesterday. The loss was discovered by Mrs. Fox when they returned at 7:30 p. m.

A 21-year-old maid, who has been employed at the Fox home for the past nine days, was arrested and admitted taking the clothes, which were found in a suitcase in a drug store at Delmar boulevard and Delmar avenue, where she had left them, saying she would call later for them, according to the police. Mr. and Mrs. Fox did not prosecute.

NOVIATIES AT NEWSBOYS' HOME

Among the guests yesterday at the thirteenth annual Thanksgiving dinner at Father Dunne's Newsboys' Home and Protectorate, Garrison and Washington avenues, were three young men who are studying for the priesthood, former newsboys at the home. They were Maurice Hyington, Martin Kelly and Peter Millock, and they now are novitiates of the Redemptorist Fathers.

Father Dunne, in a brief address, expressed the thanks of the 12125 charges for the treat which had been provided by a friend of the home.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM CONTAGION

Formamint Tablets Check the Disease Germs That Lodge in the Throat

EVERY time you breathe, you inhale thousands of infectious germs, and these immediately find a resting place in the soft tissues of your throat. Keep a convenient bottle of Formamint Tablets in your pocket, dissolve one slowly in your mouth every time you are in a place where disease germs are prevalent—in street car, theatre, railroad train, store or on dusty street.

A pleasant tasting, but powerful antiseptic is released, and mixing with the saliva will quickly spread to every part of the mouth and throat, checking the germ life and preventing throat infections, possibly laryngitis, tonsillitis, "flu." Relieves hoarseness. Helpful for singers, actors, smokers, speakers, lecturers, etc. Children like them. 60c at all druggists.

GLASSES by the Grace of Cho Tso

THE first spectacles, so they say, were made by Cho Tso, who lived on a sacred mountain in the Middle Kingdom of China, three or four thousand years ago.

He made them out of crystals which he found where the gods had left them for him, and from the shells of the sacred tortoises that lived in the streams on the sacred mountain.

He cut and ground the crystals with sand from the same sacred streams—and many are the wonder-tales told of what the mighty glasses of Cho Tso accomplished.

BILL WOULD ABOLISH INTERIOR DEPARTMENT

Senator McCormick's Measure Proposes Creation of Two New Cabinet Places.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Abolition of the Department of Interior, creation of two new departments—one to be known as the Department of Public Works and the other as the Department of Public Welfare—and general reorganization of other governmental departments, is proposed in a bill prepared by Senator McCormick, Republican, of Illinois, for introduction at the coming session of Congress.

Senator McCormick is now en route to Europe, and the principal provisions of his bill were outlined in a statement issued today from his office. The statement said that while the bill would be introduced on the opening day of the next session, action on it probably would be deferred until after the inauguration of President-elect Harding. The statement added that the Illinois Senator, after completing the measure, discussed the proposed changes with Mr. Harding "who expressed great interest in the bill."

Public Works Department. The proposed Department of Public Works under the bill would include all important engineering and building services of the Government. The Department of Public Welfare as outlined in the bill would include various welfare agencies of the Government, such as the Woman's Bureau now in the Department of Labor, the Pension Bureau now in the Department of Interior, the Public Health Service, the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, and the Vocational Training Board.

The Department of Commerce would be enlarged so as to increase its usefulness to business. Creation of an office in the State Department to have jurisdiction over insular affairs and territories, such as Alaska, would be provided for. The Allen Property Custodian's office and the division of the Secret Service would be placed under the Department of Justice. The office of the Comptroller of Currency would be abolished and its function transferred to the Federal Reserve Board.

Other Branches Affected. The McCormick measure also would abolish the Board of Mediation and Conciliation and transfer its functions to the Department of Labor and abolish the Council of National Defense and discontinue its functions.

The measure further transfers to the Department of Commerce the Weather Bureau, Patent Office, Coast Guard, Lake Survey office, Hydrographic Office, Naval Observatory and Inland and Coastwise Waterways Service.

GASTON CHEVROLET, NOTED AUTO RACER, KILLED IN CRASH

Eddie O'Donnell, Another Driver, Dies Following Accident on Los Angeles Speedway.

PILE-UP NEAR END OF 250-MILE RACE

Chevrolet's Mechanician Loses Life When Speeder Tries to Pass Another Machine on Track.

By the Associated Press.
SPEEDWAY, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet, famous automobile racing driver, and Lyall Jolla, mechanic for Eddie O'Donnell, were killed yesterday, when Chevrolet's and O'Donnell's machines were crashed together on the Los Angeles speedway at the east end of the grand stand, near the close of the 250-mile race. O'Donnell died today without regaining consciousness. John Bresnahan, Chevrolet's mechanic, was injured.

It developed at the end of the race that Chevrolet had won the national automobile racing championship for 1920 on a point basis. Roscoe Saries, winner of yesterday's race, being far behind.

The accident occurred while Chevrolet, O'Donnell and Joe Thomas were fighting to make up the half a dozen laps they were behind the leaders on the 150-lap point. The three cars were bunched on the east turn.

According to persons grouped about the turn, Chevrolet turned to pass Thomas, who was on the inside of the bowl, and his car struck that of O'Donnell, who was on the outside. O'Donnell's car turned and plunged down the incline and Chevrolet's, apparently out of control, shot to the top of the track, tore out 20 feet of fence, then rolled down the incline on top of the wreckage beneath which O'Donnell and Jolla were pinned.

All four men were removed to a hospital. O'Donnell was unconscious, his skull fractured and both arms broken, and attendants brought information to the judges' stand that he was dead. The officials announced that both Chevrolet and O'Donnell had been killed and it was more than an hour before the news spread that O'Donnell was still living.

Saries led every lap but one, rolling over the 200 laps on the mile and a quarter track without a stop in two hours, 20 minutes and 20 seconds, an average speed of 103.3 miles an hour. Edward Miller finished second in two hours, 27 minutes, 14 seconds, an average of 102.8 miles an hour. Eddie Hearne was third, his time being two hours, 27 minutes and 27.10 seconds, for an average of 101.8.

Jimmy Murphy finished fourth in two hours, 31 minutes, 41.8 seconds, average 98.9 miles. Thomas was placed fifth and Jim Crosby sixth, both being flagged before finishing. Al Melcher, Tommy Milton and John Thiele were forced out by engine trouble.

First Prize $10,000.
Saries, in addition to taking first money, $10,000, won 199 lap prizes of $50 each offered by Los Angeles merchants to the man first across the line on each circuit. Murphy won the second lap prize. The other prizes were: Miller, $4000; Hearne, $3000; Murphy, $2000; Thomas, $1000; Crosby, $800.

Chevrolet's point total for the season in the championship competition was 1380, all acquired previously to yesterday's race. Milton, who did not finish, had 930, with other competitors as follows: Murphy, 885; Ralph de Palma, 605; Saries, 640; Thomas, 351; Mulford, 350; Hearne, 146; Ira Vall, 140; O'Donnell, 110. Mulford and Vall were not entered in the race today. De Palma was entered but did not start.

Jolla was 26 years old and a native of Illinois. His real name was Headen, but when he began racing he chose for professional use the surname of his stepfather. Jolla was engaged to be married to Mrs. May A. Esch of St. Paul, who was at the race and saw the accident.

Chevrolet, Native of France, Had Lived in U. S. Since 1901.
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet, noted automobile racer, killed in the 250-mile race at Los Angeles yesterday, was born at Deant, France, October 26, 1892, and came to this country in 1901.

Chevrolet won the Indianapolis speedway races in 1913. He was not connected with the Chevrolet Motor Company, according to Louis Franck, his brother-in-law, who resides in Brooklyn. The dead racer was associated with an automobile company in Detroit at the outbreak of the war, and after being drafted, was assigned to duty there, where he served continuously until discharged from the army.

The Chevrolet brothers, Gaston and Louis, have been entrants in practically every important automobile race held in the United States in the last two years. Gaston Chevrolet married Miss Marguerite Bueron, of Brooklyn, Oct. 27, 1918.

When a Family's Really Hungry

HERE'S a dish for big appetites. Boil rice, southern style, so that every flake is plump, and tender, and standing alone. Mould the rice in cups and place, like dumplings around the edge of a well-seasoned beef stew. Then pour the gravy over the rice. It certainly is great.

Rice is delicious for breakfast, dinner, and supper. Eat it as a cereal with sugar and cream. Eat it as a vegetable with all meats, fish, and poultry. Eat it as you do potatoes with gravy or butter on it. Eat it every day—you'll enjoy it.

Rice is the most delicious, most healthful, most economical food grown. American rice is the finest in the world. It excels in flavor, in purity, and in wholesomeness.

You save money by eating rice. One cupful makes enough for five people. Leftover rice is useful in preparing dozens of tasty dishes. None is wasted. There are over three hundred ways to prepare rice.

Keep healthy by eating rice. It builds up your strength. It sustains your energy. It is the quickest and easiest food to digest.

ASSOCIATED RICE MILLERS OF AMERICA, Inc., New Orleans, La.

Cook Rice by this Master Recipe

Follow this famous old recipe of the south. It is so simple that anyone using it can successfully boil rice the first time they try.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or agate-ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—never stir the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender, and delicious.

Consult any standard cook book for a number of excellent recipes for rice.
Here are a few others.

RICE MELANGE WITH FISH	RICE AND MEAT	RICE A LITTLENIENNE
Place any kind of fresh fish (about two pounds cut fine) in a kettle with one onion, one carrot, one celery stalk and some parsley. Add quart of water, a little salt and let it boil one hour. Cook in water until tender then drain and chop the fish. Add to the take them out and let them drip. Put the dripped vegetables into a saucepan with a half cup of chopped ham (boiled), and two cups of boiled rice. Pour over this the fish stock as above and let cook for a quarter of an hour. Serve.	Place in a double kettle a cup and one-half of new milk, reassembled and butter. Add a teaspoonful of salt and let it come to a boil. Add a cup of reassembled and boil half an hour. Remove cover and add reassembled chicken, a cup of reassembled peas, cover and cook again twenty minutes and serve hot.	Have a half cup of freshly cooked rice; take one tablespoonful of butter and one of four and water together. Add a half cup of reassembled rice, a reassembled cheese and a cup and one-half of hot water to a pinch of salt. Add a cup of reassembled rice perfectly smooth. Pour this mixture over the warm rice spread on a shallow fancy dish—on a low wall and serve. Garnish with green chowder, the whole and serve hot, garnished with nasturtium leaves around the edge.

the countryThe Coming War Between the "Closed" and "Open" ShopIn the belief that the "open-shop" crusade is intended to undo everything union labor has accomplished and to "feudalize America," the heads of the American Federation of Labor are making war plans. These labor leaders agree "that a united front must be presented to these attacks, and that every unwarranted attempt to reduce wages and working conditions to prewar levels must be resisted with every legitimate weapon." Thus, as the Baltimore Sun notes, labor and capital are lining up for a finish fight. The leading business interests "will bargain collectively with labor only when forced to do so" and a "concentrated campaign of the employers' interests already has been launched against organized labor on the reaffirmation of the 'open-shop' principle and on the stand that wages must be reduced as part of the process of deflation."The labor situation is probably the biggest problem that confronts the great mass of the American people today, and as this article in the "DIGEST" this week—November 27th—presents opinions from all sides, it will be read closely.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

COMING—RUDYARD KIPLING.

I have noticed something missing in the movies. Though I couldn't figure just exactly what. But I felt that there were chances for big, brave, red-blooded romances. Which the brightest of producers hadn't got. But since I have seen the latest London papers. What for many years has puzzled me. I know. Though most literary persons have been writing bad and worse 'uns, Mr. Kipling never wrote a movie show.

We have missed, and never knew it, big Mulvaney And the Paythens that he joyfully destroyed. And (as now we see quite plainly) we have watched the pictures vainly Missing Ortheris, and hulking Jack Learoyd. Put these three heroic figures on the film. (As they will, when Mr. Kipling starts to write) Let 'em gain the fighting glories that they used to in the stories And they'll pack the picture houses every night.

There is something rough and real about the fiction That proceeds from Brother Rudyard's ready pen: There's a zip and an attraction in his slashing style of action That you'll go to see—and go to see again. Though he writes of poaching seal inside the Circle, Or of tiger hunting down along the line, Or of barrack room carousals he will always fill the houses Anywhere they put his name up on the sign.

In the future we are going to save our quarters. For we're overed on cowboy stuff and such. And the rough house and disorder and the shootings on the border Have been played, we sort of feel, a bit too much. But when Mr. Kipling jumps in his pajamas And proceeds to write a five reel show Of the Paythens or the Hindoo, as we know darn well he kin do. Every time his name is out, we're going to go.

TOO HIGH.

It seems impossible to equip the peak of high prices with a toboggan slide.

HONORS ARE EVEN.

The fact that Mr. Bryan has asked the President to resign arouses the Wished Less Appetite.

Miss Edna G. Henry, social service worker, tells a story of the unusual ailment of a negro woman she once met in a local hospital. The patient was a large, portly, branch outside of her ward and her face bore only too plainly the marks of stentorian distress. "What's the matter?" she was asked. "Law, Miss, the doctor didn't leave me any medicine," was the reply. "Didn't leave you any medicine?" "No, I want some for my appetite." "Isn't your appetite all right?" "Law, yes," came the answer. "It's too good. I want some medicine to put it down. I can't afford such an appetite with the price of food so high."—Indianapolis News.

Trifle Ancient.

"It's a girl and music show." "The music seems reminiscent of other days." "So do the girls."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Yearnings.

"Don't you sometimes wish for the old days?" "None," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "When prohibition struck I eyed the bartender so much that I'm perfectly willing to forget it if he is."—Washington Star.
